

GOP Leader Suggests Gross Receipts Tax Compromise

HARRISBURG (AP)—Sen. Mahany, Senate GOP floor leader, said yesterday something similar to Indiana's gross receipts tax could provide the basis for a tax compromise in Pennsylvania.

Although he made it plain he was not advocating such a levy, Mahany said he would mention such an impost at a conference next Tuesday between Gov. Leader and Republican and Democratic legislative leaders.

"It might be stiff at the Indiana rates and some of the features in taxing income might be objectionable, but this is something that can be looked into," Mahany said in an interview.

Yield Estimate
The Indiana law is a combination income and sales tax with a flat $1,000 exemption on income. There is no estimate on what it would yield in Pennsylvania.

Mahany made the statement after the Senate recessed its short one-day session Tuesday until Aug. 29. The House adjourned last week until the same date.

The session Tuesday was devoted principally to a partisan exchange of recriminations on the 411 million dollar classified income tax defeated by the Senate last week.

Wants COP Proposal
And it was capped off by a demand by the governor that Republicans spell out in detail their proposal that his $1,800,000,000 budget be sliced by 220 million dollars.

"The door to my office is open to anyone who can spell out in dollars and cents—specifically and not in generalities—how we can save money for the taxpayers of Pennsylvania without shortchanging them on governmental services they have a right to expect," Leader said.

The senators however joined hands on one issued—the administration's boxing code. They passed it 48-0 to bring about what the governor has described as "honest—not fixed" boxing in Pennsylvania.

Fight Ban Continues
The bill actually won't reach the governor's desk until after Aug. 29. The indefinite ban on professional boxing in the state will continue until after that date.

Meanwhile, Sen. Dent, Senate Democratic floor leader, laid it on the line to the GOP senators who killed the income levy.

"Tell us where you want to cut and where you want to tax and then we will consider your speeches a little more seriously," said Dent.

Assails Taylor
He bitterly assailed Sen. Taylor

(R-Dauphin), Senate president pro tempore, who said there would be no tax compromise until the governor curtails his budget by 220 millions.

"The statement of Sen. Taylor in which he claims justification for a 220 million dollar cut by referring to what he calls Leader's campaign promises, is the product of an over-worked tongue and underworked brain," said Dent.

Dent then asked Mahany to make suggestions for specific taxes to which the Republican floor leader replied:

"Let People Decide"
"I will not put myself on record for or against any such hypothetical taxes," Mahany said in pointing out it is the constitutional duty of the House to originate taxes.

Mahany urged Pennsylvanians to write letters to the governor expressing their preference for taxes.

"I'd suggest for the betterment of our state and future of the commonwealth to let the people decide—and for us to listen to them," he said.

Cooling Off Period
In another development, Miles Horst, Republican state chairman, called for a cooling off period on "political bickering" to provide a proper background for a tax compromise.

The first of such conferences took place last Thursday, just before the income levy was killed in the Senate. A second, called for tomorrow, was put off until next Tuesday.

Horst said it is "now obvious" that new taxes will have to be enacted due to expiration of the current 1 per cent sales tax on Aug. 31.

Horst said he would do everything he could "to smooth the way for the budget and tax discussions."

Meanwhile, Sen. Yosko (D-Northampton), chairman of a committee of nine Senate Democrats, said his group will start public hearings on the budget next Monday without GOP help.

Power Company Will Build 2 Nuclear Plants
DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Edison Co. which now is pioneering a 45 million dollar nuclear power plant, says it will build a second and third plants within the next decade.

"And we should be able to produce power at a profit with the second installation," says Robert W. Hartwell, director of the company's nuclear power development. Edison's first power plant, which it is building with a group of associate utilities, will be in operation by 1960. Hartwell says the cost of operating the first reactor will be about $450 a kilowatt hour compared to $80 to $90 for conventional fuels. "We'll chalk that one up to research and development," he added.

STATE LEGION ASKED TO FIGHT OFFICER "GAG"

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pennsylvania's American Legionnaires will be asked to condemn a so-called "gag rule" imposed by the Veterans Administration on VA employees who are officers of veteran's groups.

The Legion's state convention opens today.

Sherman W. Mason of Jeanette, state commander, said on Tuesday the VA order is "un-American and probably unconstitutional."

VA Directive
The order directed VA employees to resign appointments and elective offices in veterans' groups because of "a clash of interests."

Mason said a resolution condemning the VA action will be introduced at the convention.

He predicted a turnout of 60,000 for the meeting, including 12,000 delegates and their alternates.

Honor General Wood
Also slated for introduction at the meeting is a resolution proposing that Maj. Gen. Eric Fisher Wood be named national honorary president of the Legion.

Gen. Wood, a former Pittsburgh architect who now lives in Bedford, commanded Pittsburgh's 53rd Field Artillery Brigade of the National Guard during World War II. He was a charter member and secretary of the first Legion post founded in Paris in 1919. He served on Gen. Eisenhower's staff during the war in France and Germany.

Also meeting are the Forty & Eight, the Legion's fun-making group; the Ladies' Auxiliary, and the Eight & Forty, the women's section of the pranksters.

Knowland To Speak
Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) is to address the opening session. He'll talk on the far eastern situation.

John F. Stay, of Philadelphia a World War II Navy veteran and Charles Mentzer of New Holland an Army veteran of World War I are candidates for state commander.

Other contests are for the post of western vice commander sought by Eugene Klinger, St. Petersburg, Arthur C. Morgan, Berwick, and state finance committee Henry M. Harman, Philadelphia, and Dixie Dryden, Chester. Paul E. Wal-Joseph Gavenonis, Mildred, and ters is unopposed for election as eastern vice commander.

Mental Health Problem
Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Michigan Democrat, told his colleagues in a prepared address that "the problem of mental health is still one of the biggest faced by the people and the states."

"One out of 12 babies born today will spend some time in a mental institution," he said. "Over one-half of our hospital beds are required for mental cases. The total annual public cost of mental

GOVERNORS ASK SPEEDY ACTION ON ROAD ISSUE

By JACK BELL
CHICAGO (AP)—The nation's governors searched today for a compromise highway construction program that might be palatable to a Congress which rejected President Eisenhower's proposals and Democratic substitutes.

Although the governors listened to praise last night from Britain's Ambassador Sir Roger Makins for Eisenhower's role at the Geneva Big Four conference and turned to a discussion of mental health problems today, their minds obviously were on the roads issue.

Makins told the governors at the state dinner of this 47th annual conference of the chief executives that at Geneva Eisenhower had succeeded "in laying, let us hope for once and all, the ghost of the idea that the Americans are a pack of war mongers."

Mental Health Problem
Gov. G. Mennen Williams, Michigan Democrat, told his colleagues in a prepared address that "the problem of mental health is still one of the biggest faced by the people and the states."

"One out of 12 babies born today will spend some time in a mental institution," he said. "Over one-half of our hospital beds are required for mental cases. The total annual public cost of mental health in the United States amounts to over $1,100,000,000."

President Eisenhower told the governors in a message yesterday he is ready to cooperate with them in attempting to solve the highway and school construction programs. After a discussion, the governors named a resolutions committee to take up the road issue.

The make-up of this committee seemed pointed toward some sort of compromise on highway financing. Most of the members called for quick action to get road building started but they differed in methods.

As chairman of the committee, Gov. Robert B. Meyner, New Jersey Democrat, called on the governors to "compromise with Congress and the appropriate pressure groups" in working out their recommendations.

Gov. William G. Stratton, Illinois Republican, proposed a five-year road building plan instead of the 10-year program urged by President Eisenhower. Gov. Fred Hall, Kansas Republican, plugged for a cooperative federal-state program.

Indiana's Republican Gov. George M. Craig urged continuous consultation between the governors and Congress in working out a highway bill. Gov. Walter J. Kohler, Wisconsin Republican, said he is supporting Eisenhower's proposal for a long term, bond financed program.

Gov. Edwin C. Johnson, Colorado Democrat, said he wants a pay-as-you-go system, without any increase in federal gasoline and other taxes.

Republicans Are Confident Of Winning With Ike In '56 But Democrats Are Gloomy

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republicans are contentedly putting all their bets on President Eisenhower's running again and winning in 1956, and the Democrats are gloomy about their prospects if he does.

That's the picture which emerges from this year's governors' conference in Chicago where most of the states' chief executives: Republican and Democratic, are meeting to discuss politics and their mutual problems.

At Chicago nearly all the Republicans who have done any talking in public are not speaking in terms of any Republican presidential candidate except Eisenhower. The Democrats who talked are divided and unenthusiastic about their prospects.

Will Decide In Spring
Because the Republicans are putting all their eggs into Eisenhower's basket, they seem destined for panic next spring if he says he will not seek another term. He has said he would decide in the spring.

They won't have much time left then to build up a successor for him. No other Republican is outstanding. But they probably won't have any more trouble picking a candidate in 1956—if Eisenhower doesn't run—than the Democrats.

The Democrats' hopes would soar, of course, if Eisenhower were out of the picture.

Here are some samples of what the Democrats at Chicago had to say:

Discount Three Top Men
Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff of Connecticut, he doubts any of the three top Democratic candidates now could carry his state. The three he named: Adlai Stevenson, the Democrats' unsuccessful 1952 candidate; Gov. Averell Harriman of New York; and Sen. Estes Kefauver of Tennessee.

Gov. Robert B. Meyner of New Jersey, as of today there's doubt any Democrat could beat Eisenhower in 1956. There is more sentiment in his state for Stevenson than for Harriman, he said, although he thinks Harriman is interested in the nomination.

Runs Standing Still
(Harriman reaffirmed his own preference for Stevenson. He said he wouldn't encourage a move to nominate him. But he declined to say he would discourage it, either. This can be interpreted as running while standing still.)

And Gov. Frank J. Lausche of Ohio—one Republican said Lausche was the best man the Democrats could find—issued what must be the master understatement of the year.

He didn't say he would like the Democratic nomination in 1956. He said he would not seek it "avidly or fanatically." This leaves him plenty of room to seek it without acting silly.

Says Ike Is "Too Old"
The best Gov. G. Mennen Williams of Michigan seemed able to think of at the moment was more negative than positive. He said Eisenhower, now 64, is an "old man." Immediately Republican governors rushed to the defense of old men.

The Republicans, who offered no doubts about Eisenhower's candidacy and victory next year, appeared divided among themselves only on the question of what Democrat would be easiest to beat.

Gov. Goodwin J. Knight of California, while predicting another Eisenhower victory, though Stevenson would be a softer touch than Harriman. So did Gov. Arthur B. Langlie of Washington.

COUNTY WOMAN DIES SUDDENLY ON THURSDAY

Mrs. Miriam Prentiss, 64, died suddenly Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at her home along the Table Rock Rd., Gettysburg R. 4.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said death was caused by a hemorrhage. She had suffered from cancer.

A native of Baltimore, Md., she was a daughter of the late Philip R. and Rose (Pountain) Winter. Her husband was Dr. E. B. Prentiss.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. E. H. Harrison Sr. and Mrs. Beulah Cravasse, both of Jacksonville, Fla.

Mrs. Prentiss had purchased a farm in Cumberland Township, near the Leo Riley farm, several years ago and resided there with a nurse. She had sold the farm July 26 to a family from Baltimore and had been planning to give them possession in the near future.

Firemen Are Summoned

The Gettysburg Fire Department Rescue Truck was summoned by the nurse, but because there were difficulties in telephone reception some little time elapsed before the home was identified and located and it could be determined just what had occurred. The firemen went first to the Warner Hospital for Dr. Crist and then drove him to the scene.

Funeral arrangements are being made through the Peters Funeral Home, Carlisle St. It is expected that interment will be in Jacksonville, Fla.

Jacobs officials estimated that more than 200,000 items were on display at the 19 booths, ranging from thousands of buttons, and similar small items, to such large objects as cupboards.

There were relics of all description, including several hundred antique valentines—frilly, lacy declarations of affection dating from 1882 to the early 1900s.

The show will continue through Saturday and Sunday, from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. each day.

State Hopes It'll Get Part Of Storm

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—For perhaps the first time in the memory of man, eastern Pennsylvania welcomed the approach of a hurricane today.

There are two reasons: Connie, the storm, appeared to be far enough away from the Keystone State to avoid serious threat of any damaging blow if she continues on present course. Nevertheless the storm was close enough to bring vital rains to a big area that has been parching through the driest summer in recent years.

Around Philadelphia the countryside already was changing from a burnt brown to a bright green under the soothing influence of overnight rains. The rainfall was localized, very heavy in some places, scant in others. But a check of the Eastern Pennsylvania region showed some rain almost everywhere, enough to perk up withering corn and potato crops and revive singed pastureland.

The Weather Bureau said encouragingly that more rain is in prospect for the next 24 hours, with precipitation likely to extend westward at least to the mountain ridges that angle from south toward northeast across the state. That would bring help to the hardest hit drought area.

WELCOME RAIN TODAY CREDITED TO HURRICANE

It's an ill wind—While Hurricane Connie was pounding the Carolina coast with high winds, the weatherman gave her credit for the first general rains in this area in many weeks. Moist air moving in advance of the hurricane brought today's showers to this area.

July wound up short of rain in this section and August had only 1.07 inches toward its normal 3.95 inches when today's rains began shortly before 10 a.m.

Hit 91 Here Thursday

The light rain Thursday evening totalled only 0.22 inch and the rains that had fallen here earlier this month were strictly local showers that covered only small areas. Today's rains were reported general.

Before the rains began Thursday evening the temperature here had climbed to 91 degrees, the first time it had gotten that high since Sunday. The month's average temperatures still are considerably above normal because of the sweltering opening week that sent the mercury above the 100-degree mark twice to set new 1955 heat records.

Farmers, gardeners, fruitmen and townfolk who are concerned about their parched lawns and flower gardens welcomed the rains today. Pastures have been short, late crops of hay have failed to develop and corn and tomato fields have suffered for lack of rain. The intense heat through most of July and the early part of this month made the effects of the drought more severe.

Streams, Wells Low

While fruitmen saw benefits to the apple crop from the rain, peach growers would not welcome an extended rainy or cloudy period now as they go into the peak of their harvesting operations. Rain at that time makes the peaches difficult to handle and aggravates some of the peach diseases including the brown rot.

Streams have been very low and many wells in rural sections were short on water.

YOUNG FARMERS TO HOLD FAMILY PICNIC AUG. 20

Plans for a family picnic Saturday, August 20, were outlined Thursday evening at a meeting of the Upper Adams Young Farmers Association held in the agriculture rooms at Biglerville High School.

President Myles Starner named Glenn Rex, Elliott Schlosser and Paul Tuley as the recreation and social committee and Ronald Rice, Gene Staub and Lester Taylor as the refreshment committee. The picnic will be held at the Bendersville Firmen's field.

Adams County Farm Agent Frank S. Zettie, speaking on "Cover Crops for Orchard and Field Crops," told the 23 members and three guests present: "We now have complete soil analysis on 500 fields in the county, mainly in the non-fruit section. Of the 500 fields, 53 per cent are low to extremely low in organic content. This shows a definite need for our farmers to grow cover crops to build up organic matter. It must be remembered however that, as the Jordan Fertility plots at Pennsylvania State University indicate, it takes a period of years to increase the organic matter by growing cover crops and keeping a sod crop or hay crop in the rotation."

Uses In Fields And Orchards

Rye grass provides a cover crop for corn, but sometimes there are difficulties in obtaining a stand. Field brome grass may be "a little easier to get established in some cases." Recommended seeding for rye grass is 20 pounds, sowed at the last cultivation, which should be shallow. A vetch and rye grass combination is also beneficial as a corn cover crop, he said. A method of establishing is to plant a shorter season hybrid corn and thus give the combination an early start, he said.

Very little use has been made in the county of cover crops in tomato fields, Zettie said, but he added that if the ground is subject to erosion, rye grass can be sowed at the last cultivation.

Ladino clover serves as a good cover in apple orchards but "goes out in about three years if you have a hard winter," he said. "When ladino is used in apple orchards it should be clipped three (Continued on Page 2)

AGENCIES FORM FORMAL COUNTY WELFARE GROUP

Formal organization of a county welfare council was effected Thursday at the GETTYSBURG VFW Home at a meeting of representatives of 18 public and private agencies and organizations who either have community welfare service as their prime purpose or who enter the welfare field as part of their program of community services.

Planning the formation of such a council began last May 19 at a meeting held at the local Public Assistance office and attended by representatives of the local Red Cross and Salvation Army, County Veterans' Affairs director, the probation office, Rural Child Welfare Service and the county board of assistance. Monthly meetings have been held since that time.

The group, in adopting a constitution and by-laws Thursday, selected as its official name the Adams County Council of Community Services, labelled the "Services Council" for the sake of brevity in newspaper publicity and council meetings.

Promote General Welfare

As outlined in the constitution and by-laws adopted Thursday the object of the Services Council is to promote the general welfare of Adams County by studies of county welfare needs and resources, cooperative planning and correlation of health, recreation and welfare services, promotion of social improvements and dissemination of information to the public.

Membership is open to any organization or governmental department active or interested in the community services of Adams County which is in agreement with the purpose of the Services Council. Each member organization or department will have one vote in a general assembly which will convene at least three times a year with the annual meeting to be held in September.

LEAD — HURRICANE CONNIE, measuring 1.89 inches for the 24 hours ended at 8 a.m.

4 Inches In N. Y.

Rain, accompanied by gusty winds, fell intermittently through most of the night in Philadelphia, flooding some low-lying spots.

The Washington Weather Bureau said the course of the hurricane toward the north northeast "should place southeastern Delaware on the northwestern edge of hurricane winds late today and tonight."

The Baltimore Weather Bureau in a similar warning said the storm should also bring hurricane force winds to the Maryland seaboard late today and tonight.

Farther north, Newark, N. J., New York City and Boston reinstated hurricane alerts. They were lowered yesterday.

Metropolitan New York, parched for weeks by high temperatures and clear skies, struggled with floods and traffic tieups from the nearly four inches of rain. Several thousand telephones were put out of commission.

Glance At Past Proves Times Are Not As Bad As They Tell Us

By ED CREAGH
Gettysburg, Pa., Aug. 12 (AP)—So the world is going to pot, eh? Things are getting worse all the time? Moral standards cracking? No respect for anything any more? How does this sound, then?

"There was a sight to be seen in broad daylight a few days ago, in front of the presidential mansion, which gave those who witnessed it a shocking idea of the onward strides which the vice of intemperance has made in 'good society' during the last two years."

Slightly Tipsy

"A woman clad in the richest and most fashionable garments, with diamonds flashing from her slender fingers in the slant western sunshine, sat on the stone balustrade, unable to proceed on her homeward walk without betraying herself."

"At last she rose and started on, swaying to and fro, and yet soon rested again, utterly unable to proceed. The carriage of a foreign minister passed by — the poor woman was noticed — and it turned, stopped, took the lady, and carried her to her luxurious home."

"For the lady is wealthy, and occupies a high social position; but she was drunk in the streets of Washington!"

HOOVER HEADS FOR FAVORITE FISHING AREA

NEWBERG, Ore. (U) — Herbert Hoover headed for his favorite fishing stream — the McKenzie River in southwestern Oregon — after seeing his boyhood home dedicated as a national shrine yesterday.

Hoover observed his 81st birthday at ceremonies dedicating the house where he came as an orphan 70 years ago.

He spoke bareheaded in the hot afternoon sun to a crowd estimated at 5,000. Hoover showed no sign of fatigue and seemed pleased with the simple ceremonies arranged for the occasion.

Although he did not remember many of his former neighbors — he was 15 when he left Newberg for nearby Salem — he mingled with the crowd, greeting everyone who approached him.

Praises Relatives
At the ceremonies, he told of his early days in this area and praised the heritage left by the builders of Newberg and the small towns over the nation.

He praised the lives of his aunt and uncle, Dr. and Mrs. Henry John Minthorn, to whose home in this Quaker community he came after the death of his parents. He said the spirit of Minthorn, a country doctor and a religious educator, lives on in the nation.

The Minthorn house was restored by friends of the former President, who organized the Herbert Hoover Foundation.

Hoover got around to the modern scene by noting, "During the last score of years our American way of life has been deluged with criticism. Altogether, if we look at the criticisms alone, we seem to be in a very, very bad way."

"Mention Something Good"
But, he said, "We should lift our eyes out to the hills from whence cometh our help. We should occasionally mention something good about ourselves."

Some criticism, he said, "comes from the fuzzy-minded totalitarian liberals who believe that our creeping collectivism can be adopted without destroying the safeguards of free men."

"It comes bitterly and daily from the communists at home and abroad who would overthrow our American system. And it even comes from free nations whom we have tried to help."

Say Agreement On Release Of 40 Near

GENEVA (U) — A Chinese Communist source said today his government and the United States are "near agreement" on the release of 40 Americans held by Peiping and only details remain to be worked out. There was no official confirmation of the report, however, from either the Americans or the Reds.

The Chinese source spread his report after U. S. Ambassador U. Alexis Johnson and Peiping envoy Wang Ping-Nan met for an hour and a half. It was the fifth of

VICTIM'S WIDOW TO GET $64,000

HARRISBURG (U) — The widow and two children of a Pennsylvania Railroad fireman killed in the line of duty will receive $64,000 under a compromise settlement reached in Dauphin County Court yesterday.

The money will go to Mrs. Pauline A. Myers and her children, Tana, 12, and William, 16, of Dauphin R. 1, Dauphin County. Her husband, William J. Myers, was killed instantly in an accident east of the Bryn Mawr railroad station last June.

He was working on a New York-Chicago express train when it stopped. Myers was crossing the main line tracks to report a fire when he was struck by a Paoli local.

Judges William H. Neely and Karl E. Richards ruled that the widow would receive 60 per cent of the settlement; the son 18 per cent; and the daughter 22 per cent.

Mrs. Myers told the court she was satisfied with the arrangement.

Their secret talks here on the American prisoners and Chinese students the Red regime claims the United States is keeping from returning home.

The two ambassadors announced they would meet again Saturday morning. A U. S. spokesman would say only that Johnson and Wang continued their discussion on the repatriation of civilians.

JAILED TWINS REFUSE PARDON

LONG BEACH, Calif. (U) — The Finn twins, offered freedom, have turned it down.

Their attorney, Joseph Scott, said the twins refused a parole yesterday because "it would imply they are criminals."

The twins, George and Charles, 41, were to have been released on parole yesterday after serving 114 days of one-year sentences for interfering with a federal officer.

"I'll not sign a parole that requires me to admit I've done wrong," said Charles Finn. The brothers said they want a full pardon.

The pair was flown here from the U. S. medical facility at Springfield, Mo., ostensibly for their release.

"The Finns refused to accept the conditions set down by the parole board," said Preston G. Smith, warden of the federal correctional institution at nearby Terminal Island. "They will remain here until the board in Washington makes a decision."

QUARLES GETS TALBOT'S POST

WASHINGTON (U) — President Eisenhower today named Donald A. Quarles—top man in the earth satellite project—as the new secretary of the Air Force.

Quarles is now assistant secretary of defense for research and development. He is 61, a native of Van Buren, Ark., and more recently a resident of Englewood, N.J. He is a Republican.

Quarles will succeed Harold Talbot who resigned Aug. 1, effective this Saturday, after the Senate Investigations subcommittee publicly explored Talbot's outside business interests and raised a question of ethics.

The appointment will be subject to Senate confirmation when Congress reconvenes in January.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said Quarles was recommended to Eisenhower by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson.

When a reporter asked about Quarles' private business holdings and what was being done about them, Hagerty said he was not in a position to answer that.

been working as waitresses also were identified. They were Arlene and Darlene Cutlip of Andover, Sheriff Tom Pasula said he thought sewer gas, backed up by clogged drains, might have exploded. But he said he could not be sure.

Walls Out, Roof In
A Cleveland policeman, Elmer Bumbis, was driving past the restaurant at the time of the explosion and gave this description of the disaster:

"The walls blew out and the roof fell in. There were arms and legs sticking out of the wreckage all over the building."

No one was certain what caused the explosion. Firemen, however, speculated that accumulated gas was set off either by a bolt of lightning or a spark from electrical equipment in the basement, flooded by the heavy rains.

Today, tired firemen and volunteer rescuers still were searching for more bodies. They worked through the night with searchlights and emergency generators, as the storm had knocked out power lines and telephone communications.

In a makeshift morgue, set up three blocks from the scene, Ashabula County Deputy Coroner H. K. Lynne was attempting to identify the bodies. Many were burned beyond recognition, and Dr. Lynne said it may take days to identify all of them.

The fire itself was brought under control in four hours as firemen from 20 nearby Ohio and Pennsylvania towns rushed equipment to the stricken village.

Martial Law Declared
Traffic was snarled through much of the night by the effects of the explosion and hordes of curious motorists who drove to see the fire. Law enforcement officials threw a cordon around the community and the state highway patrol said martial law had been declared there at the request of the Andover mayor. Sixty troops were sent to the village to enforce it.

Frank Lacky, a Masillon, Ohio truck driver, was eating in the restaurant when it exploded.

"Suddenly the restaurant was gone," he recalled later at Ashabula Hospital where he was taken for treatment of his injuries. "It just blew up. The next thing I knew I was lying in the grass."

There was no official estimate of property damage, but it was expected to run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Some Identified
The building in which the restaurant was located also housed an Isaly store, part of a national dairy store chain. The other buildings housed Ohio Edison Co. offices, Hall Insurance Co., Freddy's

LOS ANGELES (U) — Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, declining an invitation to speak in Los Angeles, said that Red China's release of imprisoned American fliers was ordered by Russia.

Injured were taken to hospitals here and in Connecticut and Youngstown. At least three of them were reported on the danger list.

Coroner Clyde C. Roller and the state highway patrol said five of the dead had been identified. They were George A. Schroeder of Pittsburgh, Pa.; Schroeder's father-in-law, Thomas Kenell, also of Pittsburgh; the 8-year-old son of Edward Surman of Solon, Ohio, whose name was not available; and two Isaly waitresses, twins Arlene and Darlene Cutlip, 21.

In addition, the officials said, Schroeder's wife and son, age unavailable, were missing and presumed dead.

Seeking Bob Turley Yanks First Hired His Uncle, Then Finally Got "Right Turley"

By FRANK ECK
AP Newsfeatures Sport Editor

When Bob Turley first pitched for East St. Louis High in Illinois seven years ago he frequently knocked his cap off while taking his windup. Now he's literally knocking the caps off American League batters. His fast ball is that fast.

Robert Lee Turley is the husky 215-pound 6 foot 3 sensation who was the gem in last November's 18-player deal between the New York Yankees and Baltimore Orioles.

The Yankees liked Turley's speed, his 14 victories with a seventh-place team and his 185 strikeouts, tops in the league. They were worried only about his 181 bases on balls, also tops in the league.

But in pitching coach Jim Turner, Manager Casey Stengel believed he had the man who could cut down on the Turley walks. Turley says Turner has been a big help.

Yankee Meal Ticket

Turley has become the Yankee meal ticket. He is their stopper, their big winner in that he can pitch every fourth or fifth day, most of the time without relief.

Turley, who will be 25 on Sept. 19, was born at Troy, Ill. Soon after he enrolled at East St. Louis High for a three-year course he turned out for baseball.

"Coach Pick Dehner said he had his pitching staff picked," says Turley. "He asked me to pitch batting practice and I said 'I'm no batting practice pitcher.'"

Dehner, who was a basketball star at Illinois and has been at East St. Louis since 1939, recalls Turley when he pitched as a senior in 1948.

"Very Fast Then"

"He was very fast then and one thing I will always remember about him is that when he first started to pitch for me he was always knocking his cap off his head while taking his windup," says Dehner.

"Bob started three games and relieved in four. We won 8 and lost 6 with Bob winning 2 and losing 2. He wasn't my first string pitcher until the last two weeks of the season."

"He was defeated 4-2 in the district championship by Belleville. His biggest victory was 16-6 over Granite City, the state high school champions."

Gets H-I-Y Award

"Bob was awarded the H-I-Y award his senior year in baseball. This award is given to the boy with the best character, value to team, sportsmanship and all around ability. The faculty thought a lot of him and so did the boys."

"He always had a lot of potential. Time has brought it out."

When the New York Yankees obtained Turley it ended a quest that began back in 1948.

There were two Turleys pitching in Illinois in 1948. One was Bob Turley, 17, then a senior at East St. Louis High. The other was his uncle, Ralph Kress Turley, 19.

"Bill DeWitt (then general manager of the St. Louis Browns and now assistant general manager of the Yankees) asked me to come to Sportsman's Park in St. Louis for a trial the day before I was to graduate," says Bob. "The day after I graduated he signed me."

"Earlier the Yankees had asked me to report to a tryout camp at Maryville, Ill. My uncle, Ralph, also a pitcher, went along. The Yankees liked both of us and they suggested we report to an advance camp in Missouri for another look."

Wanted To Play

"I didn't go because I wanted to play ball right away."

The Browns sent Bob to Belleville in the Class D Illinois State League where he compiled a 9-3 record. Meanwhile, Ralph signed June 19, 1948, with independent Marion in the same league but was released four days later.

On April 5, 1949, Ralph was signed by Belleville, Ill., with whom the Yankees had picked up a working agreement. Though he batted .364 in 10 games he was released 10 weeks later.

Bob by then had established himself for he was blazing the ball past Class C Northern League batters for Aberdeen, S. D. He led the loop in wins with a 23-5 record and in strikeouts with 205.

When Bob asked his uncle why he was released by Belleville, Ralph said:

"Wrong Turley"

"They told me they signed the wrong Turley."

In mid-June of 1950 Uncle Ralph again tried his hand at pitching Class D ball, signing with Cairo, Ill., of the Kity League. He worked less than 45 innings in 15 games but was kept on the club's reserve list at the end of the season. When Cairo discontinued operations in January of 1951, Ralph Turley became a free agent.

Bob believes his uncle now is a railroad brakeman in East St. Louis, the spot where Bob Turley got his start.

The Yankees eventually got the right Turley even though it took almost seven years.

Will Last "15 Years"

The men behind the New York Yankees on the field — Manager Casey Stengel and pitching coach Jim Turner — laughed when someone suggested Bob Turley would burn himself out before mid-season.

Turner thinks Turley, despite all the energy he uses throwing his blazing fast ball, will be a good pitcher for 15 years.

"Not only that," says Mulkman Jim, "but this year he'll lead the majors in complete games."

At the time, Turley had an 8-1 record. At All-Star time his record was 11-7, the majority of his setbacks coming in a five-game losing streak during which his pitches and the Yankee batting attack went awry.

Says Stengel, who has led the Yankees to 5 pennants in 6 years: "I don't know where we'd be, without him, but he's never had an injury or a sore arm in his life and a fellow who can throw with his speed should be around for a long time."

"He's cutting down on his walks all the time. No, I haven't asked him to sacrifice speed for the sake of getting the ball in the strike zone more often. I've told him that if he's going to give walks he should give them with his best pitch. I never want a pitcher to ease up. If he's throwing hard stuff and then walks too many I know what to do. I can take him out."

"Turley has developed three pitches. He has the fast ball, curve and change up. He never had a big curve until last May. Now he has a large one and gets it over! He's big league, and a high class boy all the way, in my book."

Turley says he has no aims as to the number of strikeouts or victories.

WORK APRON CAN HELP YOUR HOME WORKMAN

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Now that Dad has been bitten by the do-it-yourself bug, life often becomes complicated around the old homestead.

The home workshop can be tough on Mom, when it comes to soaking paint stains out of a shirt or mending a pocket ripped by the weight of a hammer. So local sewing center experts suggest that you give the man of the family an ounce of prevention, in the form of a sturdy workshop apron. You can stitch it up in an afternoon using a standard pattern and 1 1/2 yards of sturdy fabric.

Denim or heavy sailcloth will give the best results. Old fashioned mattress ticking also will stand the strain. The apron has enough pockets and straps to please the most gadget-minded worker. A tool strap runs across the apron near the waistline; a double pocket at the bottom has room for sketch pad, nails and screws, tools and even a sandwich. The double top pocket is slotted to hold pencils or chalk, the lower half is just the right size for a pack of cigarettes.

Adjusted Strap

A four-inch adjustable closure on the neck strap makes one apron adjustable to fit any member of the family. Edges are finished with contrasting binding, easy to sew with the multi-slotted binder attachment on your sewing machine.

It is suggested that you double-stitch the pockets, using good heavy thread, a size 16 machine needle and about 10 to 12 stitches to the inch.

The pattern envelope also contains directions for a feminine version of the workshop apron, which can be handy around kitchen or nursery.

As an added filip to Dad's pride, you might put a small monogram on the cigarette pocket of his apron, just so he'll be sure of getting it back from the rest of the family.

Artificial Lights Help Maintain Egg Production Through Fall And Winter

By FRANK S. ZETTLE
Adams County Farm Agent

Artificial lights are necessary to establish and maintain egg production during the late summer, fall, and winter months. Artificial lighting does not increase annual production but makes it possible to receive more eggs at the time of year when eggs are highest in price.

At one time, it was felt that artificial lights increased production because they increase the length of day. Some work done at the Pennsylvania State University a few years ago showed that lights are not beneficial from the standpoint of giving the birds more time to eat. The research workers took the feed away before the lights were put on and still got the same results. We know now that the infrared rays in the artificial light stimulate the pituitary gland, which steps up all glandular activity, resulting in greater production. Because of the increase in production, the birds eat more feed.

A twenty-five watt bulb for each 300 square feet is enough light. It should be used each day to supplement daylight in making a 13-hour day. Yearling hens should be given light by July 15, and early pullets shortly after production reaches its peak and levels off or about six to 10 weeks after production begins. Late pullets should be given lights when they are mature. Birds that have laid on range should be given lights when they are housed.

Don't Pasture Woodlot
Pasturing cuts woodlot yields, sometimes up to 50 per cent. Good woodlots average 250 board feet of lumber per acre each year but pastured woodlots produce only 75 to 100 board feet.

Leaves falling in a protected woods equal 110 pounds of fertilizer, consisting chiefly of calcium, potassium, nitrogen, and phosphoric acid. In addition, this one to one and a half ton leaf drop per acre acts as a mulch and holds water in the soil.

In pastured woods, there are no small trees to hold leaves on the ground. Winds blow the leaves out of the woods, robbing it of the fertilizer and moisture retaining value of the leaves. Soil becomes hard and packed by constant tramping of cattle.

Livestock knock bark off tree roots and disease and insects attack the wood. Large mature trees in overgrazed woods depreciate rapidly.

Have Fewer Weeds
Woodland pastures yield 85 per cent less forage than open pastures on a dry weight basis. They also contain 25 per cent less more weeds. Total carbohydrates in green material of native woodlands are almost 40 per cent less than in adjacent open bluegrass pasture.

Pasturing woods also robs beneficial insect-eating birds of their nesting place. They depend upon the low, shrubby growth for their nests. Wild game and birds enjoy the border or protective strips along woodlands. An open grazed woods is practically worthless for this purpose.

Check Water Supply
Better check your water supply before starting irrigation and thus avoid trying to irrigate too much land with too little water.

One inch of irrigation requires 27,150 gallons of water on each acre, or for five inches 135,750 gallons. The water supply must last through prolonged dry spells. It doesn't pay to irrigate a large acreage half way through a drought and then lose it because of a water shortage. Make it a point to check your water supplies during dry periods to determine whether you have enough for irrigation.

You also need to make sure you have the legal right to use the water supply. Ordinarily there is no restriction on use of well water, but heavy use of water from a natural stream might exceed landowners' rights.

The common law of riparian rights is the basis for most water use laws. It holds that landowners along a stream may make reasonable use of it; but must pass it along to downstream landowners without any substantial change in either quantity or quality.

"MY HAPPY JOURNEY"

When the golden sun is sinking... in a field of azure blue... deep inside I feel a yearning... to be once again with you... so I hurry o'er the roadway... leading to our humble home... where there dwells the priceless treasures... from which I shall never roam... you, my darling, and our children... are the treasures of my life... you give meaning to the moments... that would otherwise mean strife... as the dreamy shadows lengthen... and I near my journey's end... worldly sorrow seems to vanish... and my waning hopes ascend... for in just a few brief seconds... I will feel the tender bliss... from the lips of you, my dearest... as we share a welcome kiss... so it is when day is over... and the golden sun sinks low... through the years you will find me going... to the happiness I know.

TO MOVE DOUBLE BRICK BUILDING

What is believed to be the biggest flitting in the York area in many years is shaping up.

A double brick two and a half story building at 1100 Mt. Rose Ave., York, until recently occupied by the Quay Snyder family which operated a general store and gasoline service station, is being readied by workmen for a two-block trip south on Albemarle St., York.

Mrs. John Feaser Jr., Littlestown, today confirmed a report that she and her husband purchased the dwelling from Snyder and made necessary plans to have it moved to 870 South Albemarle St. The work, she said, is expected to be completed within the next several days.

According to a permit issued to Feaser by Earl Akins, Spring Garden Township clerk July 25, estimated cost of moving the building, 32 by 32 feet in size, is given as $5,000. Mrs. Feaser said the work is being done under the supervision of her husband and her father, Walter Crouse, Littlestown.

TWO APPOINTED

HARRISBURG — The state Health Department today announced the appointment of Dr. R. O'Brien of Chevy Chase, Md., as director of professional training at $10,890 a year.

John Howard Vinyard Jr., Springfield Hill, Ill., was named chief of divisional methods of $6,294 a year and James E. Nicolo, Uniontown, was appointed junior sanitarian at $3,662 a year.

HURRICANE WARNINGS GO UP AGAIN

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Hurricane Connie, pounding the North Carolina coast with destructive 100-mile winds and high seas, again became a threat to the rest of the Eastern Seaboard today.

The big tropical storm speeded up on a course along the North Carolina coast leading to the open ocean where her force could be maintained. Hurricanes usually lose their force in crossing land and Connie appeared headed landward yesterday. The East Coast had been under hurricane alert for three days while Connie floundered offshore. The alert was lifted late yesterday.

The Weather Bureau extended hurricane warnings on up the coast from the Virginia Capes to the Delaware Breakwater and north-east storm warnings all the way to Provincetown, Mass.

The hurricane flags still flew as far south as Myrtle Beach, S.C., but further danger from wind appeared past below the North Carolina border.

At 8 a.m. EST, Connie was centered about 30 miles southeast of Morehead City, N.C., and was moving north-northeast at about 12 miles an hour.

Connie's peak winds of 100 miles an hour were mostly in squalls within 50 miles from the center. Hurricane winds — 75 miles or more — fanned out 120 miles north and east and 60 miles southwest. Gales reached 300 miles to the northeast and 150 to the southwest.

The season's fourth tropical storm — named Diane — was centered about 30 miles southeast of Bermuda early today. Diane had center winds of 60 miles an hour as she moved northwest at 11 miles an hour in much the same path. Connie took several days earlier. Diane was expected to become a full hurricane later today.

Connie's center winds have been up to 135 miles but they diminished somewhat as she neared the coast. Tides ran up to eight feet above normal ahead of the eye.

Cape Hatteras, a lonely outpost on North Carolina's Outer Banks which is a frequent port of call on the hurricane path from the Caribbean, braced for arrival of Connie's center about noon. The Carolina coast was pounded steadily from late yesterday afternoon all through the night as the big storm loomed along.

Towering waves smashed fishing piers, dwellings and other shore installations, many of them newly rebuilt since Hazel's visit last year.

No casualties had been reported.

TALBOT OUT QUARLES IN

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The Air Force today furled the secretarial flag of bluff businessman Harold E. Talbot and prepared to take orders from a shy research engineer, Donald A. Quarles.

Talbot, who made millions in industry before he came to Washington 30 months ago, resigned amid controversy over an outside enterprise that yielded him profits of $132,032 in that period.

His resignation takes effect tomorrow but he plans to leave Washington today. Quarles will be sworn in Monday with a recess appointment. His nomination is subject to Senate confirmation when it meets again.

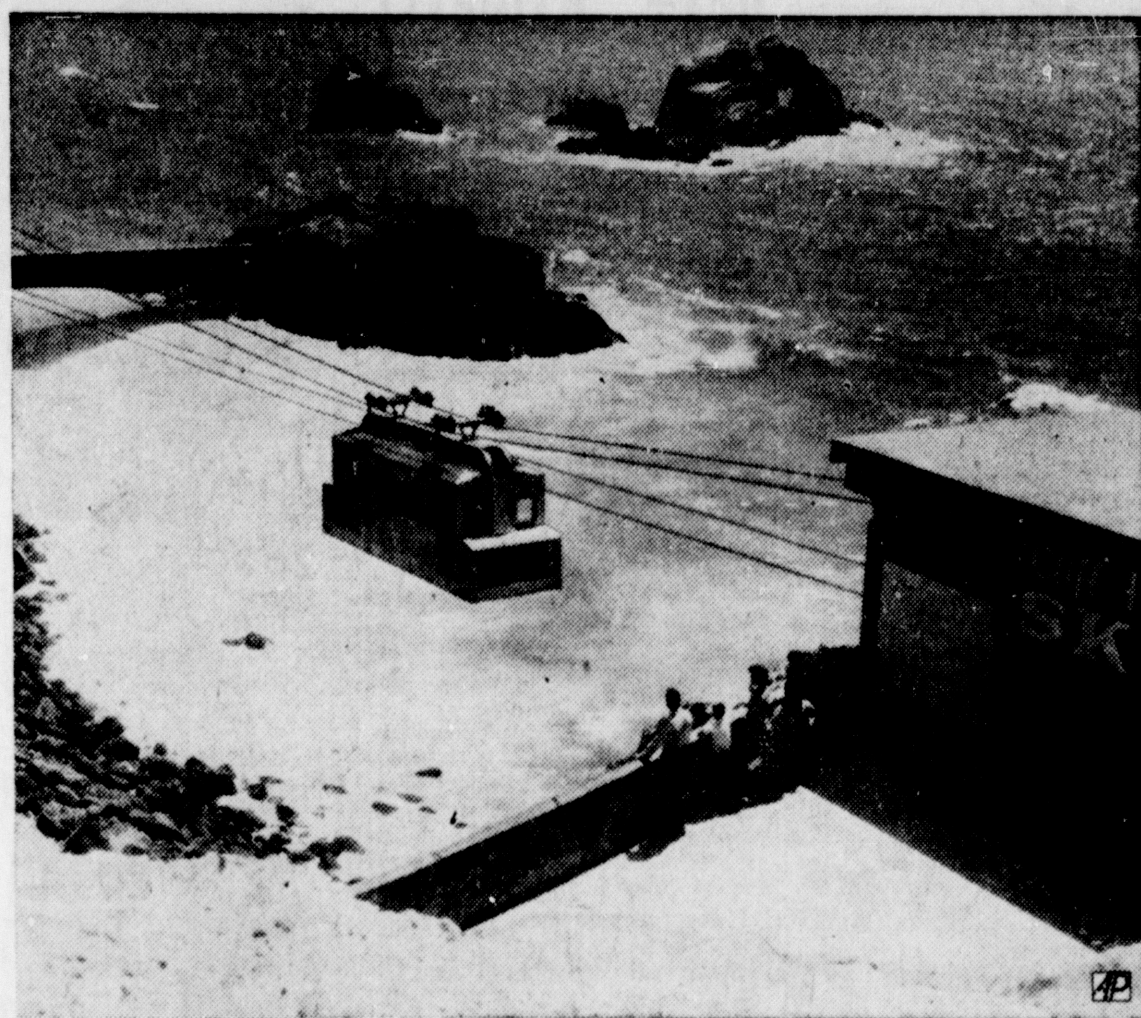

The Air Force honored Talbot at a farewell salute yesterday in which 1,800 airmen and 10 jet bombers took part. A bigger armada of 150 craft had been planned until Hurricane Connie threatened.

At least one reporter, a news photographer and two civilian workers at the Pentagon overheard Talbot complain privately to Wilson yesterday that Wilson had not defended him in the controversy which led to his decision to resign.

After accounts of the incident had been published, a statement was issued by the departing secretary's aides saying that "the idea of his accusing or criticizing Secretary Wilson for anything is incorrect."

And if there was any bad feeling between the two neither man gave any sign of it when Wilson, at the later Air Force review, awarded the Medal of Freedom to Talbot.

A light year is about six million million miles.

PLAY PEN IS WONDERFUL AID FOR BUSY MOM

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
The Associated Press

A play pen is a marvelous device to help a busy mother. Get one when your baby is quite young. Two months is not too early to begin using a play pen.

Don't use the baby's crib for a play space. It's a good idea to get your baby conditioned to going to sleep as soon as he goes to bed. If sometimes he is put into his crib to sleep and sometimes to play he is confused. A bed should be for sleeping only.

As the weeks slip into months your baby will be awake more hours of every day. He will begin to have long waking periods and he needs a safe place to play.

When your baby is only a month old, you can put him on a blanket on the floor for play periods. Never, never, put him on your bed to play. Don't do this even if you have a big double bed and you feel quite sure he cannot fall off. Maybe he can't the first time you do it, but babies develop new abilities very fast. Before you know it your baby can turn himself over and roll to the edge of the bed and onto the floor!

Frantic Screams
I'm sure you'd be surprised how many phone calls I get from frantic mothers who almost scream into the phone: "My baby has just fallen off the bed—what'll I do?" Many of these babies are not seriously hurt, but every once in a while a youngster will really hurt himself in such a fall. Don't let it happen to your baby.

You will want a play pen sooner or later. At two months your baby will lie down all the time in his pen. Have a few toys within reach. He will enjoy toys that are hung on cords across the pen. He will bat them with his hands and with his feet. Another word of caution. Make sure those cords are very firmly tied to the sides of the pen. We do not want a baby playing with a long cord that he might twist around his neck.

Put In Pen
If you start your baby in a pen long before he can crawl and move

The officers of the council shall also serve as officers of the board. Board meetings will be held bi-monthly except during July and August.

Constitutional Committee
Mrs. Verna Myers, Assistance Board; Mrs. Peggy Hill, Red Cross; Miss Bettie Livermore, Child Welfare; and Arthur J. Roth, County Fraternal and Social Organizations and the Gettysburg Association of Clubs composed the committee that drafted the constitution and by-laws.

Roth served as temporary chairman of Thursday's meeting and named the nominating committee provided for in the constitution. This committee, made up of Attorney Edward B. Bulleit, president of the County Bar Association, chairman; George Haenn, board chairman of the Adams County Red Cross chapter; Mrs. Verna Myers, Miss Margaret McMillan, board member, County Tuberculosis Society, and Miss Livermore, will present nominations at the next meeting, September 8, 1955, at 10:30 a.m. at the Veterans of Foreign Wars Home. Officers for the fiscal year 1955-56 will be elected at that time.

Those attending Thursday's meeting, besides those already mentioned, include Mrs. Milton Remmel, Gettysburg Civic Nursing Association and the County Home Auxiliary; Miss Mildred Eden, Public Health Nurses; J. Blaine Bushey, County Commissioners; C. P. Keefer, County Schools; Elmer Gruver, Cancer Society; Dr. J. J. Baker, County Medical Society; Walter B. Dillon, Warner Hospital; Lawrence Cummins, State Employment Service; George Kitzmiller, Chambersburg, local representative, State Bureau of Rehabilitation; Mrs. Louise Bream, County Services Committee, and Mrs. Virginia Parry and Roland Kime, Assistant Board.

Mr. Kime served as secretary pro tem.

Secretary Weeks Answers Critics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks says recent criticism of businessmen in government appears to be "an attack on the free enterprise system by people who don't believe in what this administration believes in."

He declined a news conference yesterday to say who he thinks may be responsible, but Rep. Celler (D-NY) put out a statement saying the secretary's remarks were "palpable nonsense."

Celler and Weeks have jousted at long range in recent days over activities of the department's Business Advisory Council a group of 165 corporation executives which has served under both Democratic and Republican administrations since the 1930s.

WILLIAM DAVLIN SUCCEEDS ROBIN IN STATE OFFICE

HARRISBURG (AP)—William R. Davlin, Wisconsin industrial economist, today was Gov. Leader's choice to succeed John P. Robin as state secretary of commerce.

The 44-year-old Davlin, now director of industrial development for the commerce department, was appointed by Leader to the $15,000-a-year job Tuesday.

The change was the first in the governor's cabinet since the Democratic administration took office in January.

Leader immediately sent Davlin's name to the Senate for confirmation but that body recessed Tuesday night until Aug. 29 without taking any action.

Robin resigned the post Monday to become president of the Regional Industrial Development Corp. in the Pittsburgh area.

Had Kentucky Post—Davlin was an industrial development consultant in Kentucky before Robin brought him to Pennsylvania. As director of industrial development in the commerce department, his salary was $12,19 yearly.

In announcing the appointment, the governor said: "We have one objective in appointing a commerce secretary. That is to get the best man available for the job. I think we are doing that in the promotion of William R. Davlin."

"Davlin is superbly trained to direct a vigorous program of industrial and community development. He is an economist, an expert in industrial and area planning and an experienced public administrator."

"As secretary of commerce he will be thoroughly capable of developing and carrying out the plans for economic progress that have been shaped in this administration."

Davlin has worked for the U. S. Department of Commerce and Delta Air Lines Inc. He also did several economic studies for newspapers in New Orleans, Atlanta and Memphis.

A graduate of the University of Wisconsin, he is a native of Berlin, Wis.

While working for the Federal Commerce Department, he was an assistant to the director for industrial expansion and construction of the national production authority during 1950-51. In the two years before that time, he was chief of the department's area development division, which he organized.

Pakistan Leader To Form New Cabinet

KARACHI, Pakistan (AP)—Chaudhri Mohammed Ali, new head of the Muslim League party, was asked yesterday to form a new Pakistan government.

Acting Gov. Gen. Iskander Mirza called on Chaudhri, a key government figure since Pakistan's founding in 1947, to take up the task.

Mohammed Ali, previous leader of the Muslim League, resigned as prime minister after the league elected Chaudhri as its head Sunday. Formerly ambassador to Washington, Mohammed Ali had been Pakistan's third prime minister since April 1953.

The Muslim League, which holds 35 seats in the National Constituent Assembly, and the United Front Party, which holds 25 of the 80 seats, signed an agreement Wednesday to form a coalition cabinet.

Miss Universe Will Visit Home Town

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—The girl who came here to become Miss Universe says she's going back to Sweden, where she's just Hillevi Rombin.

But blonde, statuesque Hillevi says she'll come back to Hollywood Sept. 12, when she's due to resume work as an actress at Universal-International studios.

"I want to see my family, my boy friend, and my other friends," Miss Rombin, 21, said Tuesday.

She startled Hollywood by arranging for a one-way passage to Stockholm, which is 50 miles from her native Uppsala. She was asked if that meant she wouldn't be coming back.

"Oh, no," she said. "That's just the other half of the roundtrip ticket I came here on. Of course, I have to return. I have my contract with the studio, and I have not finished my role in 'The Benny Goodman Story.'" with the department was to act as chairman of the White House-Commerce-Labor Committee on spot unemployment.

In 1945, he was executive secretary of the management-agriculture-labor advisory board of the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion.

During the early 1940's he was southeastern regional director of the National Resources Planning board and directed federal surveys on industrial resources and opportunities.

From 1936 to 1938 he was a research assistant on industrial studies for the Tennessee Valley Authority.

An Army veteran, Davlin resides in Harrisburg with his wife and daughter.

WORRIED ABOUT U.S. RELATIONS WITH S. KOREA

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
WASHINGTON (AP)—Officials watched with growing concern today lest anti-Red demonstrations in Korea lead to serious difficulty between South Korea and the United States.

A State Department press officer, Lincoln White, told newsmen Tuesday this country intends to abide by its obligation to protect members of the Neutral Nations Supervisory Commission personnel, including Communists, in South Korea. The truce supervision group is made up of representatives of Sweden, Switzerland, Czechoslovakia and Poland. Americans and South Koreans alike regard the Czechs and Poles as the eyes and ears of the Communists. They differ on what should be done.

Would Abolish It—The U. S. government favors a patient and gradual reduction of the commission's functions until it virtually ceases to exist. If other nations concerned would go along, the United States would be willing to abolish the group entirely. So far there has been no agreement to do so.

The South Korean government has told the commission to close up shop and get out of the country by Saturday. There have been demonstrations against the commission. Since Saturday 22 U. S. soldiers have been injured in carrying out the American determination to keep commission members from harm.

See Bad Results—So far as relations between the South Korean and American governments are concerned, authorities here feel they can keep the situation under control. But authorities here think that if many more American soldiers are injured in protecting the commission, there will be a bad public reaction against South Korea in the United States.

Thus, as Washington experts see it, might take two forms—opposition to continuing heavy economic and military aid to South Korea and pressure to get American forces out of the country and back to Japan.

ANTIPASTO ADDS ZEST TO THAT LAVISH SUPPER

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor
One way of making a company supper something special, is to serve a first course that's on the lavish side. Italian-style antipasto fills this bill to perfection.

Here are directions for such an appetizing beginning. Add to or subtract from our suggestions as you like. The Tuna Savory is one of our sister's favorite ways of using tuna, and is always enjoyed by guests. Your main course can be spaghetti with a meat sauce and side dishes of broccoli with lemon-butter. Be sure to cook the broccoli so it remains beautifully green.

For a dessert that resembles the famous Italian one called Zuppa Inglese, choose Boston Cream Pie. Use two layers of sponge cake (homemade or bought) and put them together with packaged vanilla pudding (instant or cooked) embellished with rum flavoring. Top the cake with a smooth chocolate frosting.

Add a cheese course before the dessert, and fruit after it, if you like. You'll have a memorable meal.

Tuna Antipasto Tray
Ingredients: Celery hearts, 1 can (7 ounces) whole pimientos (drained), green olives, thin onion slices (red or Bermuda), 2 cans (8 ounces each) artichoke hearts, Italian-style red-peppers, 1 can (7 ounces) solid-pack tuna, tomato wedges, capers, parsley, Tuna Savory, cucumber slices.

Method: Arrange celery, pimientos, olives, onion slices, artichoke hearts and Italian-style red peppers in separate sections on serving tray. Drain solid-pack tuna and turn out whole; garnish with tomato wedges, capers and parsley. Spoon Tuna Savory over cucumber slices. Makes 8 to 12 servings.

Ingredients: 1 can (7 ounces) tuna, 2 tablespoons red wine vinegar, 1/2 teaspoon salt, pepper, 1 small clove garlic, 1/4 cup finely diced onion (red or Bermuda).

Method: Drain oil from tuna into a small bowl—there should be 3 tablespoons. Add vinegar, salt and dash of pepper. Put garlic through a press, or mince and mash; stir into oil with onion. Turn drained tuna into dressing, flake and mix.

Will Dedicate McSherrystown
School Sept. 2: Bishop Leech To Assist: Apostolic Delegate At Ceremony — Before residents from 15 central Pennsylvania counties, the Catholic diocese of Harrisburg will dedicate the new $200,000 Delone high school at McSherrystown on Labor Day, September 2.

Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States and titular archbishop of Laodicea, will dedicate the building assisted by the Most Rev. George L. Leech,
D.D., J.C.D., bishop of Harrisburg.

Begun as a gift from C. J. De-lone, Hanover attorney and businessman, the school is being completed as his memorial. While blessing the new $105,000 McSherrystown grade school on July 2,
1939, Bishop Leech announced that
Mr. Delone had donated a ten-acre tract and $200,000 to construct a high school to replace one destroyed by fire in February, 1938.

But little more than two months after the cornerstone was laid on November 5, 1939, Mr. Delone died at the age of 75. As a memorial tribute, Bishop Leech ordered the name changed from Central Catholic high, as the former building had been known, to the Delone Catholic high.

The Rev. Cyril J. Allwein, principal of Central Catholic, will head the new school with an augmented faculty.

Today's Talk

Few acts of our lives have such a lingering death as an unkind word, or a bitter remark given to one we love, or whom we ought to love, or which is given to us. Nothing scatters, heals, inspires, and gives us a lift, however, like just the opposite. The kind word and new encouragement are like a caller knocking at our door with a present for us — something unexpected.

These unkind words, thoughtlessly uttered, always leave scars in the hearts of others, and in our own heart, too. We can live to regret them, and we can be sorry and be granted forgiveness but the scars always remain.

Wars come and go, but the scars remain. History is all marked up with the narration of wanton damages done while wars went on. Nations never seem to learn that all wars are waste and destruction. They leave scars everywhere. But the most serious ones are to be found in the hearts of those who offered up their lives in battle. Homes everywhere are sealed with scars during and after every war.

What is more precious than peace? With no war going on what opportunities there are for happiness! It takes a long time for the scars of war to heal. They go into generation after generation. Too many people go around in our everyday life with scars concealed, and too many of them taking too long to heal.

There are so many fine and wonderful things we can leave behind us as we wind our way through life. We can leave behind a memory of pleasantness, courtesy, unselfishness, and interest in the lives of those whom we contact. We can leave behind a hunger for our return, and be missed, which is always something to cheer one!

Friends have gone from me who do not seem to be gone, for there are so many beautiful memories of them left behind. I believe this is the experience of many. Sometimes the very thought of these wipe out the scars of others!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Flowers."
Projected, 1955, George Matthew Adams Service

Just Folks

CUSTOMER AND CLERK
"The customer is always right" they tell me.

And I am one, insisting those who sell me
Must always pleasant be and uncomplaining
Though I may be a grumbler when it's raining.

I may be disagreeable and worried.
I may be out of patience when I'm hurried,
But when before a counter I am standing
I'm right, although discourteous and demanding.

I like attention. Gladly I receive it.
But say I'm always right, I don't believe it.
Troubles are common. No one hasn't any.

Clerks may have more than I, or often just as many.

I am not always right and well I know it.
I'm quick to anger and too oft I show it.

A headache makes the customer a fretter.

HEAT, RAINFALL CAUSE DECLINES IN STATE CROPS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Agriculture Department says hot weather and below normal rainfall during July caused substantial declines in Pennsylvania corn, wheat, potato and tobacco production estimates.

A federal-state survey also showed that Pennsylvania apple and peach production prospects declined during the month.

The department said yesterday corn production is now estimated at 57,120,000 bushels, a drop of slightly more than 4 million bushels during the month.

Wheat Declines
Wheat, at 16,172,000 bushels, showed a drop of about 1,245,000 bushels while potato production estimates, previously at 13,680,000 bushels, were down 2 million bushels. Tobacco was down 5,400,000 pounds from 40,915,000 pounds.

Production on each of these crops is now below last year and under average, the department said.

Lack of rain affected the sizing of apples and peaches while hot weather hastened maturity in eastern Pennsylvania where most of these fruits are grown, the report said.

Erie Section Better
The Lake Erie shore area was not as hard hit as eastern areas and prospects for apples are better there than last year "and continue good for peaches," the department declared. The Erie section had from two to three inches of rain during July.

The Aug. 1 estimate for apples, peaches and grapes showed no change from July 1.

The apple crop of six million bushels is about the same as last year and the same as the 10-year average.

Peach Estimates
Pennsylvania peach estimates are for a crop of 2,320,000 bushels compared with 2,550,000 last year and the average of 2,189,000 bushels.

Sizing of apples in the Adams-Franklin-York fruit belt has been fair in most orchards due to only 1 1/2 to 2 inches of July rainfall, the department said.

The report continued: "Oats estimates advanced about 3,000,000 bushels between July 1 and Aug. 1. The crop is now given at 35,552,000 bushels which is about 2,000,000 above last year and 10,000,000 above average."

Barley Up
"Barley is estimated at 8,968,000 bushels an advance of more than 90,000 bushels over July 1 estimates."

"Rye, at 420,000 bushels is 20,000 less than July 1. There was no change in hay or fruit production estimates."

The department said hot and dry weather and little rain during July drained soils of moisture. The sustained heat wave with temperatures most days in the 90's caused much vegetation to wilt in eastern and central counties, hardest hit by the dry conditions.

ADMITS ROBBING BUFFALO BANK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The FBI said today that Jacob R. Schnitzer, 26, has admitted robbing a bank near Buffalo, N.Y., of $11,000 Monday.

Charles E. Weeks, special agent in charge of the Miami FBI office, said Schnitzer, whose home is in Buffalo, admitted following his arrest that he robbed the bank just two minutes before closing time.

A sharp-eyed FBI agent spotted Schnitzer's automobile at a street intersection in nearby Fort Lauderdale late yesterday and brought about his arrest on a federal complaint and warrant issued in Buffalo Wednesday.

Schnitzer will be given a hearing today before U.S. Commissioner Roger E. Davis. Details of the statement were not revealed but the FBI said Schnitzer "has admitted the crime."

At the time of his arrest, Schnitzer had $7,000 in his possession, most of it hidden in a paper bag and stuffed into socks in the trunk of the new Oldsmobile 88.

Weeks said the complaint and warrant charged Schnitzer with robbery of the Thruway Branch of the Manufacturers and Traders Trust Co. of Cheektowaga, N.Y., on Aug. 8, in which $11,000 was taken.

Baltimore Symphony Will Play Jazz Piece

BALTIMORE (AP)—Symphony Conductor, Massimo Freccia, living up to a promise to liven up the local classical music scene, plans to present "Concerto for Jazz Band and Symphony Orchestra" at a concert next fall.

On the outer fringe of the Lyric Theater stage will be the 86 pieces of the Baltimore Symphony. In the middle will be what the program calls a progressive jazz ensemble—the 19-piece Sauter-Finnegan Orchestra.

The concerto, written by a modern German composer named Liebermann, is essentially a dialogue between the jazz group and the symphony orchestra, Massimo said.

JAPANESE MARRIAGES

DALLAS WIVES FORM SITTERS' COOPERATIVE

DALLAS (AP) — Families in the Country Club Park addition of Dallas think nothing of finding an extra baby on their doorsteps. This happens frequently.

The addition is made up of new homes owned by families of moderate means. It's a considerable distance from downtown Dallas. Often the family car must be driven by the husband to his job.

The young wives grew tired of staying home to keep an eye on their children. Even shopping for groceries was a problem.

So the mothers organized a baby sitters' club to give members a chance to get away from it all. The mothers report that the club is operating beautifully. Last month, each of the 11 members had 109 hours free of family cares. But each also put in the same number of hours caring for someone else's children.

Mrs. Charles Akin Jr. is particularly grateful, saying, "My dentist's bill would have been double if I had had to pay for a baby sitter every time I went to his office."

The club has its detailed book-

Nuclear Meter Tests Qualities Of Soil

CINCINNATI (AP) — Army engineers are developing a nuclear soil meter which will help builders of highways, dams and airfields measure the density of soil and its moisture content. These indicate to a builder the strength of the soil so that he can determine the weight of foundations or the amount of tonnage the soil can take. This information is needed in estimating construction costs.

Frank Mellinger, director of the Ohio River Division Laboratories of the United States Corps of Engineers, said that with the meter builders will be able to save more than two-thirds of the cost spent on soil testing under present methods. And the testing will be done quicker.

Radon at the end of a tube drilled into the ground sends out gamma rays. A Geiger counter tells how many rays are bouncing back from the soil. This gives the scientists the key to the density and moisture.

Mellinger believes the first commercial produced models may be ready next fall.

keeping system

A ledger is kept up to date on credits and debits in hours of each mother. It all must balance out at the end of the month when a general meeting is held.

In the club are mothers with a total of 11 children ranging from 2 months to 8 years.

They have their problems, too. There was the time Mrs. Homer Jester was sitting for Mrs. R. D. Arndt. The little Arndt boy locked himself in the bathroom and Mrs. Jester had no idea where the key was kept.

"I went through every drawer in the house she relates, 'but no luck. Finally I found a screwdriver in the sewing kit and unlocked the door.'"

Friendly Pup
Another member found, to her embarrassment, that the other family's dog liked her. It was a Boxer, noted for its affection, and the huge animal insisted on sitting on her lap all the time she was there.

Who looks after the children during the club meeting each month? The fathers, of course.

FALLS TO HIS DEATH

YORK, Pa. (AP) — Henry C. Hanna, 52, York, a kiln feed operator for the Portland Medusa Cement Co. West York, was fatally injured yesterday when he fell 60 feet from the top of a hoist tower to the ground.

Oldest Warship Prepared For Last Voyage

The ancient frigate Constellation, rated as the oldest warship in the world still afloat, is warped into a floating drydock for her last "voyage." Boston Naval Shipyard officials hope to fix her up enough so she can be towed to Baltimore in the drydock. Launched in Baltimore in 1797, she is a week older than her more famous sister, Constitution, "Old Ironsides." She will be placed in concrete berth after this last journey. (AP Wirephoto)

PLAN WELCOME FOR RELEASED MILTON FLIER

MILTON, Pa. (AP) — Residents of Maj. William H. Baumer's hometown today prepared a gala "welcome home" for the returning airman, one of 11 Americans released by the Chinese Communists after 2½ years in prison.

A full dress parade and other ceremonies are scheduled for 8 p. m. next Monday.

Baumer and the 10 other airmen arrived in Hawaii yesterday to a tumultuous welcome on the first major stop of their trip from Japan to the West Coast. They are expected to arrive in this country tomorrow.

The "Welcome Home Committee" will present Baumer with a $750 war bond during ceremonies at this central Pennsylvania city's Lincoln Park.

Lewis Kepler, vice chairman of the celebration, said the committee plans to have a squadron of jet planes fly over the area prior to the parade as a salute to Baumer.

Donation Of $50,000 To St. Mary's School

An outright gift of $50,000 was given last week to the new St. Mary's Catholic High School, Hagerstown, by Panborn Foundation of which Thomas W. and John C. Pangborn are chairman and co-chairman, respectively.

The Pangborn donation was announced in a letter to contributing parishioners from A. F. Floor, chairman of the church building finance committee, and Mons. J. Francis Leary, pastor.

The Pangborns are also donors of the new Mount St. Mary's College residence hall, Pangborn Hall, which will be completed this summer.

Baumer and his mother, Mrs. Hattie L. Baumer, lived in Milton prior to his entrance into the Air Force. Since then, she has lived with a daughter in nearby Lewisburg.

Kepler said the parade will feature some 12 to 15 musical groups, fire companies, air force reserve units, Boy Scouts and veterans groups.

Milton already is partially decked with streamers and bunting in preparation for the event. Kepler said the decorating will be completed by Saturday.

AL Race Takes On Old Look With Yanks And Indians In Scrap For Lead; Red Sox Slip

The Associated Press

The American League race had its old look today, with Cleveland, Chicago and New York scrapping for the pennant while Boston and Detroit, who gave it a nice try, slipped into the background.

And if Al Lopez and Casey Stengel finally have things going for them again, as it appears, Chicago may not be long for this world either.

The Indians held their two-point spread by whipping Detroit 3-2 yesterday while second-place Chicago pounded Kansas City 14-1 and third-place New York, another points behind, disposed of Boston 5-3.

Red Sox Tumble

By dropping the three-game set at Yankee Stadium 2-1, the Red Sox tumbled three games behind. The Tigers, shut out in three at Cleveland, skidded eight games back.

It was the method of operation that held the secret for the Tribe and the Yankees.

Manager Lopez, who got a pinch single from Hoot Evers when he replaced the injured Larry Doby Wednesday night, started him against the Tigers yesterday. He smacked a three-run homer off Billy Hoelt in the sixth inning. That made it the second straight come-from-behind morale booster for Lopez's Indians, who fall into depressive moods easily. Early Wynn won his 14th of the season.

Juggling By Stengel

In winning his first series victory since July 1-3, Stengel juggled the batting order, one of his better accomplishments, and came up with a bunch who swatted on cue and rapped three extra-base blows—two of them triples. It was all over in two frames as the Yanks went off to a 4-0 lead against rookie Frank Baumann, a gambling starting choice by Sox boss Pinky Higgins.

Bob Turley won his 13th, but not without trouble. He left in the ninth when Billy Klaus opened with a double and Stengel pulled his ace in the hole.

Southpaw Tommy Byrne, Casey's surprise stopper this season but "overlooked" as a starter in the series, ambled over for what was only his third relief bit. First, he knocked off Ted Williams (who earlier finally got his 2,000th hit) on a ground ball. Next, he got Jackie Jensen on a sacrifice fly that scored Klaus.

Chisox Rap Raschi

And then he sent a called third strike past a bewildered Norm Zauchin.

The White Sox won without such shenanigans. They broke out for 16 hits and rapped loser Vic Raschi and reliever Cloyd Boyer for seven extra-base blows in support of Connie Johnson. Jim Rivera drove in five runs all alone, with two triples and a double.

Those were the only games scheduled in the AL.

Braves Lose Pair

The National League also took a rest, with Brooklyn, New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh idle. At Milwaukee, however, St. Louis right-hander Willard Schmidt had a real workout, limiting the Braves to just one hit to win the nightcap 4-0 as the Cards swept a doubleheader. Milwaukee, beaten 7-1 in the opener on three unearned runs in the first inning, now trails Brooklyn by 16 games.

The only hit off Schmidt was Johnny Logan's leadoff single in the seventh. Stan Musial and Solly Hemus homered for the Cards.

Cincinnati used an unearned run in the 11th to beat Chicago 6-5, despite a 39th home run by Cub shortstop Ernie Banks that gave him the major league lead.

MILO SAVAGE DEFEATS MIMS

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Salt Lake City's Milo Savage wore down Holly Mims of Washington, D. C., with a steady barrage of punches last night to gain a unanimous decision over the No. 2 ranked midweight.

Savage weighed 158, Mims 153½. The unranked Savage thus avenged a loss he suffered to Mims in Brooklyn last winter in an unpopular decision.

Savage systematically stalked Mims around the ring last night and kept him on the defensive with a variety of hard punches. Mims fell to the canvas in the ninth, more from exhaustion than anything else.

Judge Harold McNeill scored it 5-3-2, Judge Bob Elias 5-4-1 and Judge Archie Robbins 6-4, all for the Salt Lake boxer. The referee had no say in the decision.

PROS BUNCHED IN RUSH TOWARD TAM GOLF GOLD

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—The rush to stake out claims on Tam O'Shanter's golf gold had reached Yukon proportions today as 27 pros, separated by only four strokes, tried to keep to the front in the "World" money stampede.

Three comparative youngsters defied the "shakes" to roll into the first round lead yesterday in an opening bombardment of par 72.

Bob Rosburg, 28, who grips a club like a baseball bat and swings for home runs; Mike Krak, 27, Czechoslovakian-born novice on the PGA tourney circuit; and Gene Littler, 25, fourth leading money winner—each ripped a 66 from Tam's lush 6,900-yard course to share the first round lead.

But there were others still strongly on the scent of a treasure that goes to the 72-hole winner—$50,000 in cash, $55,000 for 55 exhibitions, $1,000 in caddy fees, and an option on 50 more exhibitions at $1,000 each.

Others Nearby

One stroke away at 67, were two seasoned cash seekers, Fred Hawkins and Bob Winingler.

At 68 were Antonio Cerdas, the gay gaucho from Buenos Aires; Henry Ransom, and longshot Jay Hebert.

Crammed in at 69 were Paul O'Leary, U.S. Open champion Jack Fleck, Gardner Dickinson, Wally Ulrich, British Open champion Peter Thomson, Ernie Ball, Shelly Mayfield and Walker Imman.

Other divisional leaders in the "World" tourney were:

Women pros ($12,000 in prize money)—Patty Berg and Fay Crocker, each with 5-under-par 71's.

Women amateurs—Gloria Fecht, Inglewood, Calif., 76, and Ruth Jensen, Seattle, 77.

Men amateurs—Doug Sanders, Cedartown, Ga. 67.

AUSTRALIA AND ITALY TANGLE FOR CUP PLAY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mighty Australia and Italy, a onetime tennis stepchild, tangle today in the Davis Cup Interzone finals for the right to challenge the defending champion United States team for the coveted mug.

Aussie Captain Harry Hopman, with his back to the wall, hauled Lew Hoad out of mothballs and assigned him one of the singles spots as a token of his respect for the Italians. Hoad, a muscular blond who helped Australia whip the United States twice in the Challenge Round, was scheduled to face Fausto Gardini in the first match at the Germantown Cricket Club.

The second singles sent Ken Rosewall against Nicola Pietrangeli. The doubles, scheduled for tomorrow, will pair Hoad and Rex Hartwig against Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola. The final two singles matches of the best-of-five series, reversing the first day's order, will be played Sunday. The Challenge Round is scheduled for Forest Hills Aug. 26-27-28.

But all attention today is focused on 14-year-old Wanda Warner of the Walter Reed Swim Club, Washington, D. C., who will try to turn the tables on her Pan-American games conqueror, Helen Stewart of Montreal, Canada. Last March in Mexico City the two sprinted to the finish line of the 100-meter freestyle in identical 1:07.7 times with Miss Stewart declared the winner by a scant touch. Joy Alderson of Chicago who won the event last year, is not defending.

Three other titles will be on the line today and tonight in the swim meet being conducted in Fairmount Park's John B. Kelly Olympic Pool.

Macrides is a graduate of the University of Nevada and West Chester (Pa.) State Teachers College.

WELLSBORO AND OIL CITY MAKE SEMI-FINALS

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP)—Wellsboro and Oil City today joined Morrisville and Pittston as semi-finalists in the ninth annual state Little League Baseball Tournament.

Wellsboro, powered by four home runs, clipped West Newton 11-7, yesterday after Oil City edged Suburban National of Harrisburg 4-3.

Morrisville and Pittston square off this afternoon while Wellsboro and Oil City meet this evening. Championship and consolation games will be held tomorrow.

The winner of the tournament will represent Pennsylvania in the Little League World Series beginning Aug. 23.

2 Homers For Monks
Wellsboro spotted West Newton four first inning runs, three on a homer by centerfielder Al Specht, who later was switched to pitcher.

Ken Monks slammed the first of two homers for Wellsboro in the second with one on. Other Wellsboro homers were hit by pitcher John Delbert and Joe Patt.

Six of the seven runs in the Harrisburg-Oil City game came on homers. A two-run clout in the last inning by left fielder Butch Toy pulled the game out of the fire for the western Pennsylvania team.

Oil City's first two runs came on a homer by pitcher Bob Flickner. Harrisburg pitcher John Blanch hit a two-run homer in the first inning.

May Try Game Again Tonight

With rain washing out Thursday night's scheduled game between the Moose and Eagles in the Community Softball League, previously postponed from Wednesday night also because of rain, the two squads will try again at 7:30 o'clock tonight on Recreation Field, weather permitting.

League officials said that if it is impossible to play the game tonight, the regular schedule of double-headers in the semi-finals will be resumed Monday night, and the postponed game will be played at the end of the semi-final series, if there is need for it to decide the winner of the best-of-five series.

The games Monday will begin with the Moose vs. the Eagles at 7 o'clock and Texas Lunch vs. VFW following that game.

So far the Lunchmen and the Vets have each won one game in their series, and the Moose won the first game with the Eagles.

The team which captured first place of the four competing teams for this season, the Vets, will receive an award. During the four years of Little League ball in Littlestown, the teams standing first in the close of each season were: In 1952, Lions; 1953, Vets; 1954 Eagles, and again this year, the Vets.

The local all-stars participated in the District Four playoffs for the first time this year. Several weeks ago they defeated Gettysburg and McConnellsburg in the area games played at Fayetteville. In the District Four playoffs, staged at Newville, the Littlestown All-Stars were defeated by Suburban National.

Managers of the teams for this season have been: Vets team, Donald C. Feiser and Robert Myers; Lions, Karl P. Bankert and Merle Weikert; Giants, Edward H. Leister, B. M. Jones and Ben F. Hanlon; Eagles, G. Richard Knipple and Robert C. Koontz.

Rain Shortens Game
This evening the mothers of the Little Leaguers will be selling booster tickets throughout the business section of the community. Proceeds from the ticket sales will be used for the benefit of promoting and assisting in financing Little League in Littlestown. The league is now being sponsored by the local Rotary, Lions and Woman's Community Club, Fraternal Order of Eagles and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

This evening at 6 o'clock the Eagles will play the Giants at the Little League diamond on the community playground.

On Thursday the game between the Lions and Vets was called in the fourth inning due to rain with a tie score of 2-2.

5 Teen-Agers Seek
Tennis Finals Spot

Five teen-agers, with one lone apiece, are battling for a finals berth in the Teen-Age Tennis Tournament. One of them will meet unbeaten Sid Steinour in the finals, scheduled for next week.

Jack Kunkle, a 6-6, 6-3 victor over Dave Welmer, will meet Don Moser today, weather permitting. The winner will meet Red Steinour next week for one of the semifinal slots, the other will be filled when Jim Gilbert plays Hugh McIlhenny over the weekend.

Ken Mummert and Ralph Kessel were both dropped from the tournament. Their match was scheduled several times, "rec" officials said, but neither appeared, and a double forfeit was declared. The 12-15 age division has also been discontinued for this tournament, because the youngsters were not playing off their matches.

GAME RAINED OUT
Thursday night's regularly scheduled game between the Cards and the Red Sox in the Emmitsburg Little League was washed out by rain after three innings.

The teams will resume play next week. So far the Cards have won six games and lost one; the Red Sox have won four and lost three; the Yanks have won four and lost four and the Giants have won one and lost seven.

When Deb Garme won the 1940 National League batting title with .355 it marked the last season in which he played more than 100 games. He played in only 103 games in 1940.

LITTLE LEAGUE DAY SUNDAY AT LITTLESTOWN; TO GIVE AWARDS

Little League Day will be celebrated in Littlestown on Sunday afternoon with two games matching the four Little League teams and special mid-game ceremonies with presentation of annual awards.

The affair will be held on Littlestown Memorial Field, beginning at 1:30 p.m., when the Eagles will oppose the Vets. Following the award presentations, about 3 o'clock, the Giants will match the Lions. There will be no admission cost to the field.

Between contests, the twelve-year-old players, who will participate in their final Little League game on Sunday, will be introduced to the fans and will be presented with certificates signifying that they took part in the league. An award will be given to the outstanding twelve-year-old, and the recipient will be chosen on the fine qualities of sportsmanship, conduct on and off the field, ability, interest, character in general, etc. Awards will be made to the leading pitcher, home-run hitter, etc.

5 Teen-Agers Seek
Tennis Finals Spot

Five teen-agers, with one lone apiece, are battling for a finals berth in the Teen-Age Tennis Tournament. One of them will meet unbeaten Sid Steinour in the finals, scheduled for next week.

Jack Kunkle, a 6-6, 6-3 victor over Dave Welmer, will meet Don Moser today, weather permitting. The winner will meet Red Steinour next week for one of the semifinal slots, the other will be filled when Jim Gilbert plays Hugh McIlhenny over the weekend.

Ken Mummert and Ralph Kessel were both dropped from the tournament. Their match was scheduled several times, "rec" officials said, but neither appeared, and a double forfeit was declared. The 12-15 age division has also been discontinued for this tournament, because the youngsters were not playing off their matches.

GAME RAINED OUT
Thursday night's regularly scheduled game between the Cards and the Red Sox in the Emmitsburg Little League was washed out by rain after three innings.

The teams will resume play next week. So far the Cards have won six games and lost one; the Red Sox have won four and lost three; the Yanks have won four and lost four and the Giants have won one and lost seven.

When Deb Garme won the 1940 National League batting title with .355 it marked the last season in which he played more than 100 games. He played in only 103 games in 1940.

SOCCER TEAM TO PLAY 10 GAMES

Gettysburg College's 1955 soccer team will play ten games according to an announcement from new head coach Bob Davies. Davies, former Rochester Royal basketball star, joined the Gettysburg staff in April as head man in golf, soccer and basketball.

Washington College and Wilkes College are newcomers to Gettysburg's card. Otherwise the program remains the same as in 1954. The schedule: Oct. 1, Elizabethtown, away; Oct. 8, John Hopkins, away; Oct. 15, Lehigh, home; Oct. 22, Washington, away; Oct. 26, Drexel, away; Oct. 29, Bucknell, home; Nov. 2, Franklin and Marshall, away; Nov. 5, Wilkes, home; Nov. 10, Western Maryland, home; Nov. 16, Temple, away.

But there were still some openings for the remainders of the top spots in the league standings. Bonneauville, Hunterstown and Taneytown have yet to decide who is going to be in second through fourth spots. This Sunday's games, with Hunterstown at Greenmont and Bonneauville at Taneytown may give the final result. But Hunterstown may have to play a game with Greenmont, postponed from July 10, to find out just where it does stand in the final standing—all depending of course on Sunday's games.

In the Pen-Mar circuit, with two games yet to be played, it is mathematically possible for Cashtown to tie second place Union Bridge, or for fourth place Fairfield to tie third place Cashtown. The games this Sunday will help resolve the uncertainty there. In Sunday's games Cashtown will be at New Windsor, Union Bridge at New Oxford, Emmitsburg at Blue Ridge Summit and Fairfield at Thurmont.

Pechenik took the stand in his own defense yesterday in his trial on charges his company evaded the payment of $50,000 in income taxes from 1948 through 1950.

The government originally charged the evasion of $90,000 in income taxes in those same years, but yesterday Judge George H. Boldt directed the amount reduced on the basis of testimony given during the trial.

Pechenik denied any "wilful attempt" to evade the payment of taxes by himself or the firm. He said all the firm's financial records were in the hands of his bookkeeper, adding "I never placed any limitations on my bookkeeper."

"The company's books," Pechenik said, "reflect our entire business."

Judge Boldt indicated at the conclusion of yesterday's session he may charge the jury late today.

PROPERTY MAN AT MET NEEDS GOOD MIND FOR MANY DETAILS

By W. G. ROGERS

NEW YORK (AP)—Right in the middle of our interview, he suddenly reached behind me, grabbed a gun leaning in the corner, hurried out the door, and went bang!

"La Gioconda," Act II.

I waited: another bang! And a third! There was a to-do, and an uproar, and hundreds of noises all around. It was back stage in the heart of the Metropolitan Opera House.

My man came back, thumped the gun down in its corner and explained:

It was rehearsal time, and my gunman was Ralph Edson, master of properties at the Met—he even packs three revolvers, in a drawer which New York City police inspect and license every year.

"Does the gun ever go off when it shouldn't, or not go off when it should?" I asked.

He remembered a rehearsal when he was showing director Tyrone Guthrie how to do a bang, the shot itself was defective, and the only dead thing was the silence.

"Anything Can Happen"

"Anything can happen," he said. "Anything! The things that go wrong! It isn't only guns I remember Chailoun about to climb up a balcony only there was no balcony on the set at all I remember a 'Carmen' set that was supposed to have a window and didn't."

"Does anyone ever forget the handkerchief in 'Otello'?"

"Somebody can always forget something—a knife, a gun, a flower, a piece of paper which the audience is supposed to see if they forget it, we give it to someone else going on stage and he slips it to the other character the best he can."

Edson has been with the Met 35 years, and he has in that time mounted 150 operas, he estimates. The singers come down to the stage as curtain time nears, and Edson or one of his men stands where he can pass out the needed small items. Before that, there were chairs, tables, dishes, benches, rocks, what-not to put around. For each act there's a floor plan and a photo, and a typed list of props. Sometimes they're "practical," like grapes that have to be eaten in "Carmen," or the cake in "Arabella." Someone goes out and buys them fresh for every performance.

"Who tells you when to fire that gun?"

Has Cues

"An assistant stage manager. He has a score filled with the necessary back-stage cues. When it's time to throw open a window in 'Faust,' he gives the signal. He tells when snow should fall, and stop falling."

"But who has charge of the sets in which your properties are placed?"

"My son, Louis."

Everything you see on stage at the Met, or while the company is on tour, was put there by an Edson.

The son is a master mechanic. Graduate in psychology of the University of California, he came back to work at the Met, which he's been visiting ever since he was knee-high to his father. He has three crews, or 60 men in all, and like the master of properties, he says:

"We couldn't do it alone. It's the work of the experienced crews all together that keeps things going."

Police Dog Rights Debated In Detroit

DETROIT (AP)—Suburban Dearborn's police dogs may wind up with human, instead of canine rights City Attorney Dale E. Fullmore is weighing the question John Baja Jr., a city councilman, posed it.

Baja said a customer objected when a policeman brought his dog partner into a restaurant. The customer said he himself hadn't been permitted this privilege. The city health code forbids it.

"The policeman," said Baja, replied that his dog was a law enforcement officer and was there on official duty. Now what I want to know is, is a police dog permitted to go where other dogs are persona non grata?"

starting young Edson sometimes has to put up and take down the sets for nine or 10 operas every week. Like his father, he works from drawings, photos, charts, diagrams, and various lists.

The Met has so little storage space that sets are packed off to two warehouses, one nearby in midtown Manhattan, the other five miles uptown. There are bins for every opera—as there are boxes for every set of small properties. "Hangers," or flat drops, are numbered way up into the hundreds.

ENTHUSES OVER RESPONSE TO YOUTH RALLIES

WASHINGTON (AP)—Youth packing church meetings, reading the Bible and yearning for education in the Far East, gave Eldine Dunbar enthusiastic convictions about a future in which communism and crime are no longer threats to civilization.

Dunbar, director of young people's work for the Seventh Day Adventists, has surveyed youth problems in virtually all major countries. He has just returned to his Washington headquarters from a three months' trip in Formosa, Korea, Japan, Indonesia and the Philippines and says he's impressed with the preponderance of young worshippers in all countries.

"You can't help but have great hope when you see youth packing into church and camp meetings and obviously enjoying them," he said. "They have a passion for education I never saw anything like it. Large numbers of non-Christians are attending our schools. There is a great interest in two things, Christianity and the learning of English. In many places to learn English they are reading the Bible, wherever they can get it."

In the Philippines, he was present at two weekend meetings attended by more than 10,000 young people. He was so impressed he was prompted to thank President Magasaysay for the "wonderful spirit" instilled in the youth of his country, and asked him to address the great Far East Youth Conference his denomination is planning for April, 1956 in Manila.

In countries behind the Iron Curtain, which he has visited in the past three years, he said he found that, in spite of losing some liberties, many people were grateful and happy in the religious freedom allowed them. In Yugoslavia he attended weekly all-day Adventist church gatherings where youth "enjoyed the fellowship," they found in singing, praying, listening to speeches by religious and youth leaders, and in simple recreation.

Dunbar, as general secretary for Missionary Volunteers, the Adventist youth societies in which more than a third of a million young people are enrolled throughout the world, is responsible for planning an activity program for the young members who do not attend movies and dances and do not smoke or drink.

Defense Production Extended By Ike

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower Tuesday signed bills extending the defense production and small business administration laws.

The defense production law provides for allocations and priorities in funneling materials to military and atomic contracts and help in building the capacity of defense plants. It also forbids ships and planes to visit Red China or to carry items destined for Red China.

The business measure increases the total revolving fund available for small business loans from 150 million dollars to 175 millions. It also increases the maximum loan a single firm may get to $250,000.

More Polio Vaccine Is Released For Use

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another batch of Salk polio vaccine has been released for general use.

The Public Health Service announced Tuesday 1,177,068 cubic centimeters made by the Wyeth Laboratories, Marietta, Pa., had been released for use by state or local public agencies and by private physicians. Each cubic centimeter is enough for one shot.

Pennsylvania received 73,143 shots.

The new vaccine will go to the states on the basis of the number of unvaccinated children aged 5-9 in the state. It brought to 2,023,068 c.c.'s the amount allocated thus far for general use, as contrasted with the vaccine going only to the inoculation program of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis for first and second-graders.

Assembly Considers More Senate Bills

HARRISBURG (AP)—New legislation to spur greater interest in local historical matters is before the General Assembly.

Sen. Stiefel (D-Phila.) said his plan, advanced in a bill he introduced last night, would not clash with the program of county historical societies.

Other new Senate bills would: Require county treasurers to give notice of tax sales to persons in whose names the property is last registered and to lien creditors—Stevenson (R-Clinton). Permit use of poison bait for rats only in a manner approved by the State Agriculture Department so as not to injure game or domestic animals and birds—Stevenson.

BROWNS FAVORED OVER ALL-STARS IN 22ND TILT

By JAMES DAILEY

CHICAGO (AP)—Tonight's the night a bunch of college boys try to beat the football pros at their own game.

The College All-Stars—made up of 49 of the top players of the 1954 college season—tackle the Cleveland Browns in the Chicago Tribune Charities' 22nd annual all-star game.

The contest starting at 8:30 p.m. (EST) at Soldier Field will be televised over the ABC network and broadcast over the Mutual radio hookup.

Under Pro Rules

The game will be played under the professional rules allowing free substitution. Last year the All-Stars were defeated by the Detroit Lions, 31-6, playing under their own limited substitution rules.

But the main difference from previous All-Star contests is that the current All-Stars have been coached in the wide-open, passing, pro style of play by four experts in the field. In other years this chore was performed by a staff of college coaches.

The current staff is led by Curly Lambeau of Green Bay Packer fame, assisted by Hank Anderson, Steve Owen and Hank Pook, all veterans of the pro football wars.

Fine Talent

They have hand-picked their own squad, and the word is out that they have whipped it into a formidable aggregation for the big test against the national football league champions.

The college squad is shot through with talent—quarterbacks Ralph Guglielmi of Notre Dame, Paul Larson of California, George Shaw of Oregon and Dave Leggett of Ohio State; ball carriers Alan Ameche of Wisconsin, Bobby Watkins of Ohio State and Dick Bielski of Maryland, and linemen Mack Boydston of Oklahoma, Dick Szymanski of Notre Dame and Bud Brooks of Arkansas.

Cleveland, however, remains a two-touchdown favorite, despite the loss of their great quarterback, Otto Graham, who retired at the end of last season. But Graham's loss is not expected to be sorely felt, as coach Paul Brown has a more than capable replacement in the veteran George Ratterman.

KENTUCKY EWE IS SENT TO IKE

WARSAW, Ky. (AP)—Two boys whose family has raised sheep for 91 years yesterday sent a fellow farmer, Dwight D. Eisenhower of Gettysburg, Pa., a prize-winning ewe.

Robert and Louis Ewbank told the President in a letter that they had read he had received cattle and hogs for his farm but no sheep.

"So we are shipping to you express prepaid one of our Kentucky State Fair prize-winning ewes from our F.F.A. project," they wrote. F.F.A. stands for the Future Farmers of America.

LEGIONNAIRES CONSIDER NEW RESOLUTIONS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pennsylvania's American Legionnaires today settled down to the business of their 37th annual convention on resolutions expected to affect national Legion policy.

The delegates from the Legion's largest state department were to consider a resolution calling for a continuing opposition to diplomatic recognition of Communist China.

The resolution backs up the words of Sen. Knowland (R-Calif.) at the opening session yesterday. Knowland said it would be a "violation of all moral principles upon which the United Nations is supposed to rest" to admit Red China.

"I am opposed to such admission and to recognition of the Communist regime by the government of the United States," Knowland said. He added:

Mirage Of Peace

"Yielding more free people or territory now might perhaps give a temporary mirage of peace but the waterless, moral, spiritual and governmental waste of the international communist desert would remain with all its stark realism of slave labor camps, captive satellite nations and tyrannical police state methods."

Knowland declared the "isolationists of today are among some of our European associates who believe that Europe can be saved by the sacrifice of Asia." He continued:

"This is a dangerous doctrine and there is ample historic precedent to show that appeasement is not the road to peace but is surrender on the installment plan." Other resolutions slated to be called up include such topics as federal pensions for World War I veterans and a bonus for veterans of World War II.

The Forty & Eight staged its annual parade through downtown streets last night complete with bands, floats and the traditional locomotives. Thousands gathered to watch as the merry-makers toiled and whistled their way to Gateway Center, the hub of the business section.

Backfiring Pump Brings Policemen

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two rookie policemen got started with a bang and ended up with red faces yesterday.

Driving by the Water Department pumping station, they heard a loud explosion and immediately summoned fire and police emergency equipment.

It turned out the explosion was merely the backfiring of a gas operated pump, a routine occurrence at the plant, the rookies explained to arriving rescue personnel.

Godfrey Damages Wing Of His Plane

TETERBORO, N.J. (AP)—Arthur Godfrey, who's had trouble before at Teterboro Airport, damaged the right wing of his plane yesterday when it hit a ground light.

According to an airport spokesman, the red-haired entertainer was taking his DC3 on the runway in preparation for takeoff for his Virginia home. No one was hurt. Godfrey was expected to take off sometime today after repairs.

In March 1954, Godfrey's pilot license was suspended for six months for flying low over the Teterboro control tower.

CELLER, WEEKS STRUGGLE OVER PROBE OF FILES

By JAMES MARLOW
WASHINGTON (AP) — Roundish Sinclair Weeks, Republican secretary of commerce and not the most direct answerer of questions Washington has ever seen, is in a suspended struggle with a Brooklyn Democrat, Rep. Emanuel Celler.

Celler, 67, and chairman of a House Judiciary subcommittee on antitrust matters, is trying to force Weeks, 62, and Bostonian, to let him see the files of a group of businessmen who advise the secretary on problems ranging from antitrust to labor.

This group—named the Business Advisory Council—is made up of 165 top men from some of the biggest corporations in America. Weeks himself, a lifelong businessman, has been president or director of a wide field of corporations.

Weeks, after refusing to let Celler see the BAC's files, yesterday called a news conference to talk about it.

Massive Attack
Right at the outset he declared that "people who don't believe in what" the Eisenhower administration "believes in," have launched a massive attack on the free enterprise system. That was his biggest moment.

Under repeated questioning by newsmen to name one person as making or instigating the "massive attack," Weeks' only answer was "I will not deal in personalities" or "If the shoe fits anyone, let him wear it."

He was asked a lot of other questions but used up about 30 minutes answering most of them with "I don't know" or "I'm not a lawyer, are you?" or "Some of the newsmen left in boredom before the conference was over."

The members of BAC meet six times a year. They pay all their own expenses. Their executive director, Walter White, whom they pay $25,000 a year, has his office in Week's Commerce Department.

Created By Roosevelt
BAC is not new. It was created in 1933 under President Roosevelt's New Deal to give the secretary of commerce advice on business and economics. It was apparently considered useful. Democrats and Republicans have continued it without interruption.

Since Republican Weeks is only doing what his Democratic predecessors did in this regard, why is Democrat Celler trying to poke around in BAC's files?

Celler, as head of the Antitrust subcommittee, claims he wants to find out whether BAC's businessmen are merely advising Weeks or helping set government policy and whether they are using BAC in some way for their own special benefit.

Celler demanded that White appear before his subcommittee this week with the records on BAC's doings and dealings. But Weeks stepped in with a letter refusing to let White produce the files.

This is Weeks' argument: BAC's work is confidential with him; the Commerce Department has BAC's records and claims them as its own; since the department is part of the executive branch of the government it can refuse the demands of another branch, in this case Congress, to see its confidential records.

This is the separation-of-powers

Harney

HARNEY — The regular meeting of Harney Volunteer Fire Company was held Monday evening with 27 members present. The meeting was opened by the president, Fred Spangler and prayer by M. O. Fuss. Bills were approved.

The firemen are planning for a fried chicken supper September 17 from 2:30 until 7 p.m.

On Monday evening, August 15 the firemen will hold a corn bake and wieners for members and their families at the fire hall.

On Wednesday, August 31, the firemen will gather iron and any kind of metal.

The Harney Ball Club will have a card party in the firemen's fire hall, August 22.

Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. George Shriver and son, John, spent the evening in Hanover and called on Mrs. Nadine Shriver, of Hanover. Rueben Gruber, of Baltimore; Mrs. Thelma Pfeiffer and children, of Baltimore, visited Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Shriver.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strickhouse attended services Sunday morning at Taneytown High School with Robert G. LeTourneau, of Longreen, Texas, delivering the message.

On last Thursday Mrs. Minnie Hatch, of Bluff, Ill., visited with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clutz in the afternoon. Mrs. Wade Brown and daughters, Barbara, Sally and Mrs. Daniel Yingling, spent a few hours with them.

Mrs. Harry Angell returned home Friday evening after a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Webster Keiter in Rome, New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Valentine spent from Friday until Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Singer, of Waynesboro, also attended church theory used many times in American history by the executive branch when it wanted to refuse Congress a look at its files.

Whether Weeks is right in this case remains to be seen, for this reason: BAC is not a government agency and not part of the executive branch although Weeks says he has possession of its files.

At any rate the struggle between Celler and Weeks is suspended until October, Celler, after growling at Weeks and threatening to be tough about it, has postponed the subcommittee's pursuit of BAC's records.

GOV'T CURTAILS TAX INCENTIVES IN INDUSTRIES

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said today the Eisenhower administration "should be congratulated" for moving to curtail tax benefits which have helped industry expand in the past five years.

Director Arthur S. Flemming of the Office of Defense Mobilization

Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crouse and daughter, Linda Ann, and Mrs. Marion Haines. Harold Cool, of Littlestown, called at the same home Monday evening.

Mrs. Ella Null, of Baltimore; Mrs. Hannah Eckenrode and Ruth Snider, Harney, spent last Tuesday as dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Pink, of Taneytown R. 2.

Mrs. Ella Null, Baltimore, spent Wednesday night and Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. John Waybright. They also called on Oliver Waybright from there to Waybright's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yingling, who live on the pheasant farm. They also drove by the president's farm which joins the Yingling property.

announced late yesterday new orders which may lead to a sharp tapering off in the kind of tax incentives which have been granted for some 30½ billion dollars worth of plant and equipment expansion held to be essential to national security.

The action came after a series of other orders aimed at tightening up the supply of credit. Some administration officials have accused these a gradual effort to prevent prices from starting to climb again.

Flemming ordered an end to special tax benefits in 19 industries and a suspension, pending a review expected to take a month or more, in 38 others. The incentives were kept available for 20 "expansion goals" — chiefly applying to items of high military demand.

The government has pending 924 applications for the tax benefits, covering about $9,300,000,000 of proposed new plant and equipment construction. About six billions of this is in the 38 industries for which Flemming ordered the temporary suspension yesterday.

It was too early to tell what effect the orders would have. The Consolidated Edison Co. of New York said its construction plans would not be affected at all. But the Aluminum Co. of America indicated at Pittsburgh it might drop some of its expansion plans if the tax benefits for that industry are shut off for good.

Industry Review
Both electric power and aluminum are in the category suspended pending further study, during which no applications will be processed. Flemming said industries in this class would be reviewed to determine whether "adequate productive capacity" for mobilization needs exists, and then they will be reopened or closed.

O'Mahoney said in an interview the tax incentives first granted after war started in Korea were supposed to be for defense purposes. But in the last two years they have been extended to many industries have no direct connection with defense and thus were "due for curtailment," he added.

The suspended "expansion goals" included such industries as electric power, iron and steel, railroads, oil, metals including aluminum, commercial aircraft, ocean shipping, chemicals and airport facilities.

The industries for which the tax benefits were ended include asbestos, lead, manganese ore, cement, tungsten, zinc, various alloying minerals, and certain tires.

The 20 expansion goals kept open for the fast writeoffs cover such items as aviation fuel, copper, nickel, mercury, titanium, and products ordered directly by the armed services and the Atomic Energy Commission.

Totem Pole Plays Comedy Of Convicts

"My Three Angels," one of the comedy hits of the Broadway season, will close a week-long run at the Totem Pole Playhouse with performances tonight and Saturday night. The play, written by Sam and Bella Spewack, concerns the antics of three convicts and their efforts to assist a French family in French Guiana in solving their problems.

Wes Kenney is directing the production, as William H. Futch, director of most of the Totem Pole productions, is playing the part of one of the convicts. The other two "angels" are being portrayed by Frank Baxter and Pete Putas. Others in the cast are Milt Hamerman, Virginia Gannon, Pat Murphy, John Eames and Doug Robinson.

HINESES' HOME HITS HIGH IN HAPPY HARMONY

By JOY MILLER
The Associated Press

There is always harmony in the Jerome Hines household: Mamma and Papa are opera singers, and little David Jerome is a chirp off the old block.

"He was a year old on Valentine's Day, and already he is singing," says his pretty petite mother, Lucia Evangelista of New York City Center. "I mean, he follows me with the same pitch."

Hines, young Metropolitan Opera Co. basso, nods. "When he's old enough to sing bass he can have it."

"We don't have a baby-sitting problem like some couples," explains Miss Evangelista, who would rather be called Mrs. Hines. "Both our mothers are at home with us."

"I don't understand all the fuss about mothers-in-law," says her husband. "We all get along fine. And Lucia and I haven't had an argument in our nearly three years of marriage."

"He's Too Big"

"He's too big. I know I'll lose before I start, so why start?"

"How could I fight with HER?" Hines, 6 foot 6½, looks like a man asking how you could beat a soft, cuddly kitten. "But seriously, it's a big help having two opera singers in the family. We understand each other better because we have the same problems. And since we can't sing the same roles—nature having made her a soprano and me a basso, thank heavens—there's no jealousy."

"I depend on her professionally too. I come off the stage and ask her how I did. If she wrinkles her nose, I know what she means."

Mrs. Hines laughs and relates how her husband got started singing. It seems he was asked to drop out of glee club in his Hollywood, Calif., junior high school because he couldn't carry a tune. But at 16, because the pretty girl who lived next door was taking voice lessons, he started too.

At 25 he joined the Met, proving something or other about mind over music. Now, at 33, he sings 30 leading basso roles.

The singers pursue their hobbies in concert—especially spearfishing.

Afraid Of Sharks

"I'm afraid of sharks and manta rays," volunteers Mr. Hines. "But Jerry's not."

"Not long ago I tangled with a 6 foot shark," says Hines. "He was hungry and he wanted the fish I had just speared. Well—I was taller than he was, so he swam away."

He turns to his wife. "I bet David

Wins Stage Role By Telephone Audition

OMAHA (P) — An audition by telephone from New York has won 17-year-old Jane Fonda her first professional stage role.

She joined her father, actor Henry Fonda, and Dorothy McGuire in the community playhouse production of "Country Girl" here June 24-28. It was with the same playhouse group that Fonda and Miss McGuire made their own debuts.

Jane Fonda phoned playhouse director Keadrick Wilson from New York one Sunday to ask for a "Country Girl" part. As far as Wilson was concerned she cinched an ingenue's role during a 20-minute long distance telephone audition.

But, Wilson said, it took some help from Miss McGuire to sell Fonda, who was in Hollywood, on the idea. Jane is studying dramatics at a Troy, N. Y., school.

Why Not Sell Ads For Backs Of Dollar Bills?

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (P)—Mrs. Ivy Baker Priest, treasurer of the United States, in Louisville for a speech, said she gets many suggestions about the nation's money.

One man told her he was tired of the huge national debt. Why not, he asked, just print currency on one side and sell the other side for advertising?

Another person wondered why women's portraits do not appear on currency. Mrs. Priest said dollar bills once had a picture of George Washington on one side and his wife Martha on the other.

But this was discontinued, the treasurer deadpanned, because "you shouldn't let money come between a man and his wife."

will love spearfishing in a few years. And by that time . . ."

She looks demure. "We want to have one more child—a girl," she says.

"And after the girl, another boy," her husband goes on.

She sputters. "That's easy for you to say."

But in a minute she decides he's hit the right note after all, and she nods. The Hineses are in harmony again.

UNIFORM RANK OUT TO OUTDO LAST SEASON'S PARADE RECORD

The 69 members of the uniformed rank of Alpha Fire Company of Littlestown will tell you there is a thrill when a marching unit really hits its stride, with every man in step, every rank and file straight as a die.

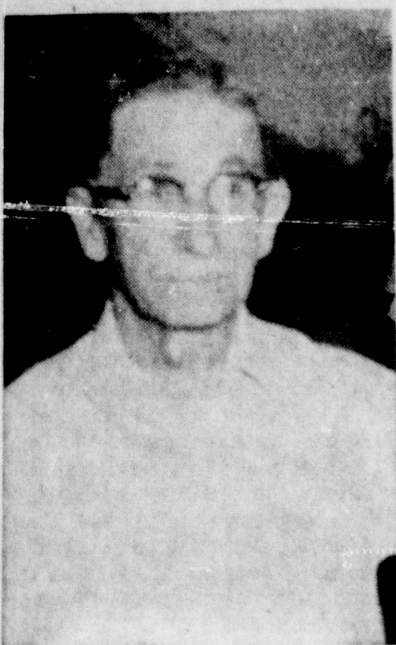

And that is a thrill to which the members of the unit are accustomed, for the organization, founded two years ago, has given a spectacular demonstration of marching skill during that period.

They give much credit to their drillmaster, Edward Sentz, who calls them out on the playground at Littlestown early in the season to perfect their marching skill. This time of year when the company takes part in a number of parades, there is little need for practice—the men get their practice while parading.

Won $1,000 Last Year
Last year the unit won more than $1,500 in prize money, marching behind another equally qualified marching unit—the Littlestown High School band. They won 13 first prizes during the year. This year they hope to equal that record if all goes well.

The marchers are of all ages, ranging up to 76-year-old Edward J. Altoff, who Littlestown officials believe is the oldest marching fireman anywhere. There are some other older men with the fire company, too, who are members of the marching unit, such as John Sterner, who has about 50 years of fire company membership, in two "fitches," so he is not the record holder for active continuous membership. A fine figure of a man, the septuagenarian Mr. Sterner, rides with the marching unit in many parades.

Mr. Altoff, proud of his ability to march along with the 20- and 30-year-old men of the uniformed rank, began his marching experience some 56 years ago in Gettysburg.

EDWARD J. ALTTOFF

JOHN STERNER

Helps With Carnival
He played the cornet with the Gettysburg band and was a member of the Gettysburg Fire Department for "five or six years" back more than a half century ago while employed by T. J. Winebrenner, here, learning the tinning trade. He was

OLD TIMERS TO PLAY AUG. 19TH

The pages of baseball history will be turned back 20 to 25 years, when memories of the old York-Adams Baseball League will be recaptured on Friday, August 19, as the Littlestown Old Timers meet the Hanover Old Timers in a game to be played under the lights of Littlestown Memorial Field. The game is scheduled to get under way at 8:30 p.m., with parade and ceremonies preceding. The event is being sponsored by the Littlestown Baseball Club.

For the past several years, the Littlestown Old Timers have been staging this game among themselves to the tune of several hundred spectators, which last year numbered over 700. This year's game will be different in that the Hanover Old Timers will furnish the opposition for the local stars of by-gone days. Hanover and Littlestown both played for many years in the old York-Adams Baseball League and many a thrilling game resulted in their meetings. A number of these same players in the 1930 to 1940 years will be participating in the game next Friday night.

Littlestown will have a squad of 26 men in uniform and Hanover will have 27 Old Timers. Don Feiser and Bud Bankert will manage the local former players, with Mel Spangler and Frank Shuff as the coaches. Jack Kane and Left Rorbaugh will direct the Hanover team.

born near Round Top, came to Gettysburg to learn his trade, then moved to Littlestown 50 years ago and was a tinsmith for about 38 years, then went to work for a shoe factory in Littlestown and then retired last January. He became a member of the Littlestown fire company about 1907, and over the years has been marching regularly with Littlestown fire department outfits.

Mr. Altoff has another source of pride in his fire company members. He has been chairman of the finance committee for the firemen's carnival there since it was started about 20 years ago, and each year has been busy each carnival handling the change and counting the money taken in at the event.

His fellow marchers claim "he can take it better than the younger men," as the company parades in town after town. Some of the younger ones give him some of the credit for the success of the marching unit—"When you see Mr. Altoff marching along, at 76, it just naturally makes you march a little better."

COUNTY WOMAN DIES SUDDENLY ON THURSDAY

Mrs. Miriam Prentiss, 64, died suddenly Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock at her home along the Table Rock R.R., Gettysburg R. 4.

Dr. C. G. Crist, Adams County coroner, said death was caused by a hemorrhage. She had suffered from cancer.

A native of Baltimore, Md., she was a daughter of the late Philip Jr. and Rose (Pountain) Winter. Her husband was Dr. E. B. Prentiss.

Surviving are two sisters, Mrs. E. H. Harrison Sr. and Mrs. Beulah Cravasse, both of Jacksonville, Fla.

Mrs. Prentiss had purchased a farm in Cumberland Township, near the Leo Raley farm, several years ago and resided there with a nurse. She had sold the farm July 26 to a family from Baltimore and had been planning to give them possession in the near future.

Firemen Are Summoned

The Gettysburg Fire Department Rescue Truck was summoned by the nurse, but because there were difficulties in telephone reception some little time elapsed before the home was identified and located and it could be determined just what had occurred. The firemen went first to the Warner Hospital for Dr. Crist and then drove him to the scene.

Funeral arrangements are being made through the Peters Funeral Home, Carlisle St. It is expected that interment will be in Jacksonville, Fla.

State Hopes It'll Get Part Of Storm

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—For perhaps the first time in the memory of man, eastern Pennsylvania welcomed the approach of a hurricane today.

There are two reasons: Connie, the storm, appeared to be far enough away from the Keystone State to avoid serious threat of any damaging blow if she continues on present course. Nevertheless the storm was close enough to bring vital rains to a big area that has been parching through the driest summer in recent years.

Around Philadelphia the countryside already was changing from a burnt brown to a bright green under the soothing influence of overnight rains. The rainfall was localized, very heavy in some places, scant in others. But a check of the Eastern Pennsylvania region showed some rain almost everywhere, enough to perk up withering corn and potato crops and revive singed pastureland.

The Weather Bureau said encouragingly that more rain is in prospect for the next 24 hours, with precipitation likely to extend westward at least to the mountain ridges that angle from south toward northeast across the state. That would bring help to the hardest hit drought area.

YOUNG FARMERS TO HOLD FAMILY PICNIC AUG. 20

Plans for a family picnic Saturday, August 20, were outlined Thursday evening at a meeting of the Upper Adams Young Farmers Association held in the agriculture rooms at Biglerville High School.

President Myles Starner named Glenn Rex, Elliott Schlosser and Paul Tuley as the recreation and social committee and Ronald Rice, Gene Staub and Lester Taylor as the refreshment committee. The picnic will be held at the Bendersville Firemen's field.

Adams County Farm Agent Frank S. Zettle, speaking on "Cover Crops for Orchard and Field Crops," told the 23 members and three guests present: "We now have complete soil analysis on 500 fields in the county, mainly in the non-fruit section. Of the 500 fields, 53 per cent are low to extremely low in organic content. This shows a definite need for our farmers to grow cover crops to build up organic matter. It must be remembered however that, as the Jordan Fertility plots at Pennsylvania State University indicate, it takes a period of years to increase the organic matter by growing cover crops and keeping a sod crop or hay crop in the rotation."

Uses In Fields And Orchards

Rye grass provides a cover crop for corn, but sometimes there are difficulties in obtaining a stand. Field brome grass may be a little easier to get established in some cases. Recommended seeding for rye grass is 20 pounds, sowed at the last cultivation, which should be shallow. A vetch and rye grass combination is also beneficial as a corn cover crop. A method of establishing is to plant a shorter season hybrid corn and thus give the combination an early start, he said.

Very little use has been made in the county of cover crops in tomato fields, Zettle said, but he added that if the ground is subject to erosion, rye grass can be sowed at the last cultivation.

Ladino clover serves as a good cover in apple orchards but "goes out in about three years if you have a hard winter," he said. "When ladino is used in apple orchards it should be clipped three (Continued on Page 2)

WELCOME RAIN TODAY CREDITED TO HURRICANE

It's an ill wind—

While Hurricane Connie was pounding the Carolina coast with high winds, the weatherman gave her credit for the first general rains in this area in many weeks. Moist air moving in advance of the hurricane brought today's showers to this area.

July wound up short of rain in this section and August had only 1.07 inches toward its normal 3.95 inches when today's rains began shortly before 10 a.m.

Hit 91 Here Thursday

The light rain Thursday evening totaled only 0.22 inch and the rains that had fallen here earlier this month were strictly local showers that covered only small areas. Today's rains were reported general.

Before the rains began Thursday evening the temperature here had climbed to 91 degrees, the first time it had gotten that high since Sunday. The month's average temperatures still are considerably above normal because of the sweltering opening week that sent the mercury above the 100-degree mark twice to set new 1955 heat records.

Farmers, gardeners, fruitmen and townfolk who are concerned about their parched lawns and flower gardens welcomed the rains today. Pastures have been short, late crops of hay have failed to develop and corn and tomato fields have suffered for lack of rain. The intense heat through most of July and the early part of this month made the effects of the drought more severe.

Streams, Wells Low

While fruitmen saw benefits to the apple crop from the rain, peach growers would not welcome an extended rainy or cloudy period now as they go into the peak of their harvesting operations. Rain at that time makes the peaches difficult to handle and aggravates some of the peach diseases including the brown rot.

Streams have been very low and many wells in rural sections were short on water.

AGENCIES FORM FORMAL COUNTY WELFARE GROUP

Formal organization of a county welfare council was effected Thursday at the GETTYSBURG VFW Home at a meeting of representatives of 18 public and private agencies and organizations who either have community welfare service as their prime purpose or who enter the welfare field as part of their program of community services.

Planning the formation of such a council began last May 19 at a meeting held at the local Public Assistance office and attended by representatives of the local Red Cross and Salvation Army, County Veteran's Affairs director, the probation office, Rural Child Welfare Service and the State Employment office and county board of assistance. Monthly meetings have been held since that time.

The group, in adopting a constitution and by-laws Thursday, selected as its official name the Adams County Council of Community Services, labelled the "Services Council" for the sake of brevity in newspaper publicity and council meetings.

Promote General Welfare

As outlined in the constitution and by-laws adopted Thursday the object of the Services Council is to promote the general welfare of Adams County by studies of county welfare needs and resources, cooperative planning and correlation of health, recreation and welfare services, promotion of social improvements and dissemination of information to the public.

Membership is open to any organization or governmental department active or interested in the community services of Adams County which is in agreement with the purpose of the Services Council. Each member organization or department will have one vote in a general assembly which will convene at least three times a year with the annual meeting to be held in September.

Hurricane Connie Viciously Lashes Carolina Coast Then Heads For Sea; Diane Coming

LEAD — HURRICANE CONNIE. WASHINGTON (AP) — The Weather Bureau here reported today that hurricane Connie moved inland at Morehead City, N.C., and is moving northward at 12 miles an hour. The hurricane was about 270 miles south of Washington, D. C.

NEW YORK (AP) — Section of the northeast coast re-posted hurricane warnings today as hurricane Connie picked up forward speed. Warnings were displayed from the Virginia Capes to Delaware Breakwater. The rest of the coast, north to and including Massachusetts, was ordered to watch for possible warnings in the next 12 to 24 hours.

Meantime, sections of the Northeast were pelted by heavy rains. The New York Metropolitan area had nearly four inches in 12 hours. Northern areas of New Jersey had electrical storms and the rainfall measuring 1.89 inches for the 24 hours ended at 8 a.m.

4 Inches In N. Y.

Rain, accompanied by gusty winds, fell intermittently through most of the night in Philadelphia, flooding some low-lying spots.

The Washington Weather Bureau said the course of the hurricane toward the north northeast "should place southeastern Delaware on the northwestern edge of hurricane winds late today and tonight."

The Baltimore Weather Bureau in a similar warning said the storm should also bring hurricane force winds to the Maryland seaboard late today and tonight.

Farther north, Newark, N. J., New York City and Boston reinstated hurricane alerts. They were lowered yesterday.

Metropolitan New York, parched for weeks by high temperatures and clear skies, struggled with floods and traffic tieups from the nearly four inches of rain. Several thousand telephones were put out of commission.

Glance At Past Proves Times Are Not As Bad As They Tell Us

By ED CREAGH
Gettysburg, Pa., Aug. 12 (AP)—So the world is going to pot, eh? Things are getting worse all the time? Moral standards cracking? No respect for anything any more? How does this sound, then?

"There was a sight to be seen in broad daylight a few days ago, in front of the presidential mansion, which gave those who witnessed it a shocking idea of the onward strides which the vice of intemperance has made in 'good society' during the last two years.

Slightly Tipsy

"A woman clad in the richest and most fashionable garments, with diamonds flashing from her slender fingers in the slant western sunshine, sat on the stone balustrade, unable to proceed on her homeward walk without betraying herself.

"At last she rose and started on, swaying to and fro, and yet soon rested again, utterly unable to proceed. The carriage of a foreign minister passed by — the poor woman was noticed — and it turned, stopped, took the lady, and carried her to her luxurious home. "For the lady is wealthy, and occupies a high social position; but she was drunk in the streets of Washington!"

From Family Journal

What's all this? An item from one of those slush magazines that shell up the newsstands today?

No, it's taken from page one of a highly respectable newspaper, one that described itself as "A Family Journal — devoted to foreign and domestic news, politics, literature, agriculture, education, morality, science and art."

The date was Nov. 24, 1863. That particular issue happened to be preserved because a fellow named (Continued on Page 5)

Sunday School Lesson

By Rev. Dr. Howard R. and Margaret C. Gold

THE COURAGE OF DANIEL

Daniel 5:17-28

Key Verse: It is right not to eat meat or drink wine or do anything that makes your brother stumble. Romans 14:21.

In last week's lesson we were introduced to the life and practices of the Jewish exiles during the time of the Babylonian captivity. Part of the text came from the Book of Daniel — that which described the trial of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego in the fiery furnace.

Daniel, prophet and statesman of this Babylonian period, was officially a statesman, so his prophecies differ somewhat in character from those of the other prophets. Consequently, he did not exhort his contemporaries as was the particular function of the prophets to do. His book has been called "the first philosophy of history."

and is generally classified as an apocalypse. It was written partly in Hebrew and partly in Aramaic. The portions dealing with the life of the Jews in a foreign land and with the deeds of the kings under whom he served are all written in Aramaic, the diplomatic and commercial language of the period.

This remarkable statesman served with distinction under several different administrations or dynasties: under Nebuchadnezzar, and under the successive reigns of Darius, the Mede, and Cyrus, the Persian. His gift of interpretation and prophecy was openly recognized, and because of his loyal, faithful service, he became a power and influence in Babylon. He was virtually head of the province of Babylon under Nebuchadnezzar and he was president of a board of three under Darius, with authority over 120 satraps.

But Daniel never abused his temporal power. He was first and foremost a man of God and as such he dared to speak the truth boldly. Each time he was required to interpret a dream oromen, he spoke the truth freely about the future destiny of the nation. He believed that God Himself directs history. Repeatedly Daniel speaks of the greatness of God and His divine will for the nations.

Never Abused Powers

The scripture passages for this lesson give the account of Daniel at Belshazzar's feast. In it (Daniel 5:17-24) the prophet recounts to the assembled lords and the king the fateful experiences of Nebuchadnezzar — his power, his hardness, his loss of the throne, his madness, his final confession. Belshazzar, descendant of Nebuchadnezzar, was ruling as regent with his father Nebonidus. These Chaldeans worshipped their own power. In defiance of all that was holy, they drank wine from the sacred vessels taken from the temple of the Lord.

As this thousand of revellers were at the height of their drunk-ness and merrymaking, a hand was seen writing on the wall. The mysterious hand disappeared but the strange words remained on the wall. Fear now replaced revelry as the stupefied assembly gazed uncertainly. None of the astrologers could interpret the writing, so the queen, likely mother of Belshazzar, thought of Daniel. The statesman-prophet was summoned to decipher it. Daniel's introduction and interpretation were a model of diplomacy. He led up to the interpretation by recounting Nebuchadnezzar's life, giving substance but in no wise compromising.

Not A Defeatist

Would that every leader placed in a similar delicate situation would "dare to be a Daniel!" "And this was the writing that was inscribed: MENE, MENE, TEKEL, and PARSAR. This is the interpretation of the matter: MENE, God has numbered the days of your kingdom and brought it to an end; TEKEL, you have been weighed in the balances and found wanting; PARSAR, your kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and the Persians."

Daniel never permitted himself to assume a defeatist's attitude at any time. When temporal matters seemed beyond control, he never lost faith but continued to look forward steadfastly to the restoration of his people to their homeland. Few Jews in history have ever risen to such high position as he. Even Joseph as the chief ruler of the house of Pharaoh never had the power or influence of Daniel!

Daniel possessed a calm courage in the face of fear, confusion, and misunderstanding. He stands out in history as one who had the spiritual strength to rise above the affairs of the world, always looking to God as the Chief Controller of the destinies of men and nations.

"PROVING OUR GOD-GIVEN CAPACITIES"

WGCT (1450 KC) Sunday 8:15 A.M.

GEE, DAD, YOU'RE SWELL!

It is a wise father who takes time out now and then to be chummy with his boy and to participate in his sports. The lad in the picture beams his pleasure as his dad prepares to "pitch him a few."

The bond of companionship between a good father and his son is one of the most helpful influences that can come into the life of a boy. Boys who enjoy such companionship seldom go astray.

What a striking contrast we observe in the other picture! Guilt and fear are written on the face of the boy with the stolen fruit. He has started on the long and painful road that leads to disaster.

Juvenile delinquency is one of the great social problems of our time. Unwholesome influences are abroad in the world to lead children astray. Without parental guidance, many of them drift into evil ways.

Parents need the help of God and the counsel of the Church in meeting this responsibility.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

YOUNG FRENCH NOVELIST WONS CRITICS ON TOUR

NEW YORK (AP)—During all the years when, if I must tell the truth, I've interviewed women authors in preference to men, and good looking women authors instead of not good looking, I've never had the luck to run across anyone like Francoise Sagan.

She's the author of one of the Frenchest of French novels: "Bonjour Tristesse."

It's the sort of book you keep away from your teen-age daughter. It's the sort of book that makes you expect the author to be a sophisticated, experienced woman of the world, kind of a Circe, siren and Eve.

Well, Francoise Sagan herself is a teen-ager—18 when she wrote her book, 19½ now on her first thrilling visit to this country. She can comment sagely on writing, or on other novelists like Sartre, Proust, or Faulkner; she has blase, or at least bored, moments. But very often, she becomes a little girl, shy, modest, lovable, and in a real way as innocent as that child of yours from whom you hide the book you thought so knowing and naughty.

New Costumes
She's small-boned, chic and exquisitely dressed, and never at a loss for a new costume for her publishers' party, for the bookstore autographing, for the gala "April in Paris" ball here, for the event given in her honor by the Cultural Services department of the French Embassy, for all other goings-on.

Her hair is black, and cut short in a ragged line across her high forehead. She has long, slim, supple fingers. She has a pert triangular face, pointed chin and big dark eyes.

At party after party, sleepless as she was after her trip from the south of France, in the midst of milling people who spoke a language with which she is not yet very familiar, she maintained the sure, confident poise of a veteran of 50 novels, or 50 years of being the cynosure of all eyes.

"Is she pretty?" the young critics exclaimed.
"Is she composed?" commented the older ones, resignedly, with a sigh.

"Hmmm," said the ladies, which was perhaps the surest compliment of all.

You have questions for her, but

31st County Forms Conservation Unit

HARRISBURG (AP)—Huntingdon County Commissioners today notified the state they have established a countywide soil conservation district, the 31st county in the state to do so.

Participation by county farmers and land owners in soil conservation activities will be voluntary.

Organization of the district calls for the naming of at least eight directors at a meeting to be conducted by the county commissioners.

Under the 1945 soil conservation law, counties that establish conservation districts have the opportunity to adopt working agreements for conservation practices in cooperation with the highways and forests and waters departments and the game and fish commissions.

Artificial Lights Help Maintain Egg Production Through Fall And Winter

By FRANK S. ZETTEL
Adams County Farm Agent

Artificial lights are necessary to establish and maintain egg production during the late summer, fall, and winter months. Artificial lighting does not increase annual production but makes it possible to receive more eggs at the time of year when eggs are highest in price.

At one time, it was felt that artificial lights increased production because they increase the length of day. Some work done at the Pennsylvania State University a few years ago showed that lights are not beneficial from the standpoint of giving the birds more time to eat. The research workers took the feed away before the lights were put on and still got the same results. We know now that the infrared rays in the artificial light stimulate the pituitary gland, which steps up all glandular activity, resulting in greater production. Because of the increase in production, the birds eat more feed.

A twenty-five watt bulb for each 200 square feet is enough light. It should be used each day to supplement daylight in making a 13-hour day. Yearling hens should be given light by July 15, and early pullets shortly after production reaches its peak and levels off or about six to 10 weeks after production begins. Late pullets should be given lights when they are mature. Birds that have laid on range should be given lights when they are housed.

Don't Pasture Woodlot
Pasturing cuts woodlot yields, sometimes up to 50 per cent. Good woodlots average 250 board feet of lumber per acre each year but pastured woodlots produce only 75 to 100 board feet.

Leaves falling in a protected woods equal 110 pounds of fertilizer, consisting chiefly of calcium, potash, nitrogen, and phosphoric acid. In addition, this one to one and a half ton leaf drop per acre acts as a mulch and holds water in the soil.

In pastured woods, there are no small trees to hold leaves on the ground. Winds blow the leaves out of the woods, robbing it of the fertilizer and moisture retaining value of the leaves. Soil becomes hard and packed by constant tramping of cattle.

Livestock knock bark off tree roots and disease and insects attack the wood. Large mature trees in overgrazed woods depreciate rapidly.

Have Fewer Weeds
Woodland pastures yield 85 per cent less forage than open pastures on a dry weight basis. They also contain 25 per cent less more weeds. Total carbohydrates in green material of native woodlands are almost 40 per cent less than in adjacent open bluegrass pasture.

Pasturing woods also robs beneficial insect-eating birds of their nesting place. They depend upon the low, shrubby growth for their nests. Wild game and birds enjoy the border or protective strips along woodlands. An open grazed woods is practically worthless for this purpose.

Check Water Supply
Better check your water supply before starting irrigation and thus avoid trying to irrigate too much land with too little water.

One inch of irrigation requires 27,150 gallons of water on each acre, or for five inches 135,750 gallons. The water supply must last through prolonged dry spells. It doesn't pay to irrigate a large acreage half way through a drought and then lose it because of a water shortage. Make it a point to check your water supplies during dry periods to determine whether you have enough for irrigation.

You also need to make sure you have the legal right to use the water supply. Ordinarily there is no restriction on use of well water, but heavy use of water from a natural stream might exceed landowners' rights.

The common law of riparian rights is the basis for most water use laws. It holds that landowners along a stream may make reasonable use of it; but must pass it along to downstream landowners without any substantial change in either quantity or quality.

"MY HAPPY JOURNEY"

When the golden sun is sinking ... in a field of azure blue ... deep inside I feel a yearning ... to be once again with you ... so I hurry o'er the roadway ... leading to our humble home ... where there dwells the priceless treasures ... from which I shall never roam ... you, my darling, and our children ... are the treasures of my life ... you give meaning to the moments ... that would otherwise mean strife ... as the dreamy shadows lengthen ... and I near my journey's end ... worldly sorrow seems to vanish ... and my waning hopes ascend ... for in just a few brief seconds ... I will feel the tender bliss ... from the lips of you, my dearest ... as we share a welcome kiss ... so it is when day is over ... and the golden sun sinks low ... through the years you find me going ... to the happiness I know.

TO MOVE DOUBLE BRICK BUILDING

What is believed to be the biggest fitting in the York area in many years is shaping up.

A double brick two and a half story building at 1100 Mt. Rose Ave., York, until recently occupied by the Quay Snyder family which operated a general store and gasoline service station, is being readied by workmen for a two-block trip south on Albemarle St., York.

Mrs. John Peeser Jr., Littlestown, today confirmed a report that she and her husband purchased the dwelling from Snyder and made necessary plans to have it moved to 870 South Albemarle St. The work, she said, is expected to be completed within the next several days.

According to a permit issued to Peeser by Earl Atkins, Spring Garden Township clerk July 25, estimated cost of moving the building, 32 by 32 feet in size, is given as $5,000. Mrs. Peeser said the work is being done under the supervision of her husband and her father, Walter Crouse, Littlestown.

TWO APPOINTED

HARRISBURG (AP) — The state Health Department today announced the appointment of Dr. R. O'Brien, of Chevy Chase, Md., as director of professional training at $10,890 a year.

John Howard Vinyard Jr., Springfield Hill, Ill., was named chief of divisional methods of $6,294 a year and James E. Nicalo, Uniontown, was appointed junior sanitarian at $3,882 a year.

HURRICANE WARNINGS GO UP AGAIN

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP) — Hurricane Connie, pounding the North Carolina coast with destructive 100-mile winds and high seas, again became a threat to the rest of the Eastern Seaboard today.

The big tropical storm speeded up on a course along the North Carolina coast leading to the open ocean where her force could be maintained. Hurricanes usually lose their force in crossing land and Connie appeared headed landward yesterday. The East Coast had been under hurricane alert for three days while Connie floundered offshore. The alert was lifted late yesterday.

The Weather Bureau extended hurricane warnings on up the coast from the Virginia Capes to the Delaware Breakwater and northeast storm warnings all the way to Provincetown, Mass.

The hurricane flags still flew as far south as Myrtle Beach, S.C., but further danger from wind appeared past below the North Carolina border.

At 8 a.m. EST, Connie was centered about 30 miles southeast of Morehead City, N.C., and was moving north-northeast at about 12 miles an hour.

Connie's peak winds of 100 miles an hour were mostly in squalls within 50 miles from the center. Hurricane winds — 75 miles or more — fanned out 120 miles north and east and 60 miles southwest. Gales reached 300 miles to the northeast and 150 to the southwest.

The season's fourth tropical storm — named Diane — was centered 520 miles south-southeast of Bermuda early today. Diane had center winds of 60 miles an hour as she moved northwest at 11 miles an hour in much the same path Connie took several days earlier.

Diane was expected to become a full hurricane later today.

Connie's center winds have been up to 135 miles but they diminished somewhat as she neared the coast. Tides ran up to eight feet above normal ahead of Connie's eye.

Cape Hatteras, a lonely outpost on North Carolina's Outer Banks which is a frequent port of call on the hurricane path from the Caribbean, braced for arrival of Connie's center about noon.

The Carolina coast was pounded steadily from late yesterday afternoon all through the night as the big storm loomed along.

Towering waves smashed fishing piers, dwellings and other shore installations, many of them newly rebuilt since Hazel's visit last year.

No casualties had been reported.

TALBOT OUT QUARLES IN

WASHINGTON, (AP) — The Air Force today furling the secretarial flag of bluff businessman Harold E. Talbott and prepared to take orders from a shy research engineer, Donald A. Quarles.

Talbott, who made millions in industry before he came to Washington 30 months ago, resigned amid controversy over an outside enterprise that yielded him profits of $132,032 in that period.

His resignation takes effect tomorrow but he plans to leave Washington today Quarles will be sworn in Monday with a recess appointment. His nomination is subject to Senate confirmation when it meets again.

The Air Force honored Talbott at a farewell salute yesterday in which 1,800 airmen and 10 jet bombers took part. A bigger armada of 150 craft had been planned until Hurricane Connie threatened.

At least one reporter, a news photographer and two civilian workers at the Pentagon overheard Talbott complain privately to Wilson yesterday that Wilson had not defended him in the controversy which led to his decision to resign.

After accounts of the incident had been published, a statement was issued by the departing secretary's aides saying that "the idea of his accusing or criticizing Secretary Wilson for anything is incorrect."

And if there was any bad feeling between the two neither man gave any sign of it when Wilson, at the later Air Force review, awarded the Medal of Freedom to Talbott.

A light year is about six million million miles.

PLAY PEN IS WONDERFUL AID FOR BUSY MOM

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.

The Associated Press

A play pen is a marvelous device to help a busy mother. Get one when your baby is quite young. Two months is not too early to begin using a play pen.

Don't use the baby's crib for a play space. It's a good idea to get your baby conditioned to going to sleep as soon as he goes to bed.

If sometimes he is put into his crib to sleep and sometimes to play he is confused. A bed should be for sleeping only.

As the weeks slip into months your baby will be awake more hours of every day. He will begin to have long waking periods and he needs a safe place to play.

When your baby is only a month old, you can put him on a blanket on the floor for play periods. Never never, put him on your bed to play. Don't do this even if you have a big double bed and you feel quite sure he cannot fall off. Maybe he can't the first time you do it, but babies develop new abilities very fast. Before you know it your baby can turn himself over and roll to the edge of the bed and onto the floor!

Frantic Screams
I'm sure you'd be surprised how many phone calls I get from frantic mothers who almost scream into the phone: "My baby has just fallen off the bed—what'll I do?" Many of these babies are not seriously hurt, but every once in a while a youngster will really hurt himself in such a fall. Don't let it happen to your baby.

You will want a play pen sooner or later.

At two months your baby will lie down all the time in his pen. Have a few toys within reach. He will enjoy toys that are hung on cords across the pen. He will bat them with his hands and with his feet. Another word of caution. Make sure those cords are very firmly tied to the sides of the pen. We do not want a baby playing with a long cord that he might twist around his neck.

Put In Pen
If you start your baby in a pen long before he can crawl and move

Secretary Weeks Answers Critics

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Commerce Weeks says recent criticism of businessmen in government appears to be "an attack on the free enterprise system by people who don't believe in what this administration believes in."

He declined at a news conference yesterday to say who he thinks may be responsible, but Rep. Celler (D-NY) put out a statement saying the secretary's remarks were "palpable nonsense."

Celler and Weeks have jousted at long range in recent days over activities of the department's Business Advisory Council a group of 165 corporation executives which has served under both Democratic and Republican administrations since the 1930s.

The license number and the safe combination, he explained, were the same.

LICENSED MEMORY

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — A motorist asked the state motor vehicles department for the number of his old and discarded 1954 driver's license. He said he had forgotten it and needed it to get into his safe.

The license number and the safe combination, he explained, were the same.

Celler and Weeks have jousted at long range in recent days over activities of the department's Business Advisory Council a group of 165 corporation executives which has served under both Democratic and Republican administrations since the 1930s.

COAL OFFICIALS SEE NO THREAT IN ATOM POWER

By FRANK TAYLOR
WASHINGTON (AP)—Three men vitally interested in the coal industry said today they are not worried by talk at Geneva of atomic power replacing coal for generating electricity.

An American scientist at the atomic-for-peace conference in Geneva forecast this year that U.S. nuclear-produced electricity may be competing with that from coal in the next 15 or 20 years. And a British scientist said that by the year 2000 it may be possible to get the same energy from one ton of uranium as from a million tons of coal.

But a coal association official, a congressman, and a spokesman for John L. Lewis all agreed coal will be used for electric power production in this country for a long time to come.

One, Rep. Byrd (D-W.Va.), who represents the biggest coal producing district in the nation, said coal will never be replaced.

"Atomic energy, instead of replacing coal, will continue to call upon it for its own use," Byrd said. The present atomic program, he added, "is one of the greatest users of coal-produced energy."

Tom Pickett, executive vice president of the National Coal Assn., said he can see no real threat to coal from atomic power in the foreseeable future.

Cost Is Factor

From a practical standpoint, he said, the cost factor will continue for a long time to favor the use of coal.

It could be, Pickett added, that some area, lacking supplies of conventional fuels and wanting a big supply of electric power, might some day find an answer in atomic production of electricity.

Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers, was out of the city, but a spokesman said his views run something like this:

Brando Fails To Elude Cameramen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Marlon Brando tried but couldn't dodge news photographers yesterday. He was in court on two old traffic citations.

"My chances of ducking you guys are 50-50," the actor told the photographers. "Try and catch me."

They did, once through a doorway opening from the courtroom. Thereafter Brando skipped from courtroom to judge's chambers, to a second and third courtroom. Finally, he climbed out a window into an alley and sprinted away. But a photographer was waiting there too and got his shot.

Incidentally, Brando was fined $50 for an illegal U-turn and driving without a license.

power is not "just around the corner" as some would have the public believe.

There is not even a remote possibility, Lewis says, that nuclear energy will soon practically eliminate the use of coal and other conventional fuels.

The cost factor will continue for a long time to control the method of producing electrical energy, he believes, and coal, with estimated reserves sufficient to last some 2,500 years, will continue for the foreseeable future to afford the more economical production.

Power Demand Increases

Byrd said "it will be many years before the use of atomic energy will in any major way compete with, much less replace, the use of coal for the production of energy."

Byrd said the demand for energy in the expanding atomic energy program will unquestionably increase for some years.

"The total demand for energy also undoubtedly will increase over the next 20 or 30 years at a faster rate than can be supplied by atomic means," he said.

The death rate in France fell from 13.5 per 1,000 in 1946 to 11.9 in 1954, as compared with 15 per 1,000 in the immediate pre-war period.

GOP WILL SLICE RELIEF BUDGET

HARRISBURG (AP)—Senate Republicans sharpened their knives today for a slice at a 138 million dollar appropriation for relief in Gov. Leader's $1,600,000,000 budget.

Chairman Kessler (R-Lancaster) of the Senate Finance Committee said he would recommend a cut in the proposed appropriation to the 26-member Senate Republican caucus.

He made the statement after Senate GOP members scrutinized Leader's request for 138 million dollars for relief compared to 122 millions spent in the two-year fiscal period which ended last May 31.

"With business conditions as good as they are and with no indications of a letup in the next two years, I don't see why public assistance appropriations should be increased," Kessler said.

Sliced Amount Unknown

The committee chairman said he felt a cut should be made in the relief item on the basis that the Department of Public Assistance would adopt a program which would fit the higher budget figure—whether needed or not. He did not specify the amount he would recommend sliced.

Senate Republicans were responsible for killing Leader's proposal for a classified income tax last week and since then have been seeking means of trimming the budget by 200 million dollars.

Kessler said he would sit in on Democratic hearings scheduled to start next Monday on an examination of the budget. Sen. Yosko (D-Northampton) heads the Senate Democratic group which will hold the hearings.

Gov. Leader has invited Republicans to a tax conference next Tuesday and has asked them to come up with some "new ideas" on taxation. The governor has repeatedly said he would not consider a sales tax as a solution to solving the commonwealth's fiscal problems.

AL Race Takes On Old Look With Yanks And Indians In Scrap For Lead; Red Sox Slip

The Associated Press

The American League race had its old look today, with Cleveland, Chicago and New York scrapping for the pennant while Boston and Detroit, who gave it a nice try, slipped into the background.

And if Al Lopez and Casey Stengel finally have things going for them again, as it appears, Chicago may not be long for this world either.

The Indians held their two-point spread by whipping Detroit 3-2 yesterday while second-place Chicago pounded Kansas City 14-1 and third-place New York, another points behind, disposed of Boston 6-3.

Red Sox Tumble
By dropping the three-game set at Yankee Stadium 2-1, the Red Sox tumbled three games behind. The Tigers, shut out in three at Cleveland, skidded eight games back.

It was the method of operation that held the secret for the Tribe and the Yankees.

Manager Lopez, who got a pinch single from Hoot Evers when he replaced the injured Larry Doby Wednesday night, started him against the Tigers yesterday. He smacked a three-run homer off Billy Hoelt in the sixth inning. That made it the second straight come-from-behind morale booster for Lopez's Indians, who fall into depressive moods easily. Early Wynn was his 14th of the season.

Juggling By Stengel
In winning his first series victory since July 1-3, Stengel juggled the batting order, one of his better accomplishments, and came up with a bunch who swatted on cue and rapped three extra-base blows—two of them triples. It was all over in two frames as the Yanks went off to a 4-0 lead against rookie Frank Baumann, a gambling starting choice by Sox boss Pinky Higgins.

Bob Turley won his 13th, but not without trouble. He left in the ninth when Billy Klaus opened with a double and Stengel pulled his ace in the hole.

South paw Tommy Byrne, Casey's surprise stopper this season but "overlooked" as a starter in the series, ambled out for what was only his third relief bit. First, he knocked off Ted Williams (who earlier finally got his 2,000th hit) on a ground ball. Next, he got Jackie Jensen on a sacrifice fly that scored Klaus.

Chisox Rap Raschi
And then he sent a called third strike past a bewildered Norm Zanchin.

The White Sox won without such schematics. They broke out for 16 hits and rapped loser Vic Raschi and reliever Cloyd Boyer for seven extra-base blows in support of Connie Johnson. Jim Rivera drove in five runs all alone, with two triples and a double.

Those were the only games scheduled in the AL.

Braves Lose Pair
The National League also took a rest, with Brooklyn, New York, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh idle. At Milwaukee, however, St. Louis right-hander Willard Schmidt had a real workout, limiting the Braves to just one hit to win the nightcap 4-0 as the Cards swept a doubleheader. Milwaukee, beaten 7-1 in the opener on three unearned runs in the first inning, now trails Brooklyn by 16 games.

The only hit off Schmidt was Johnny Logan's leadoff single in the seventh. Stan Musial and Solly Hemus homered for the Cards. Cincinnati used an unearned run in the 11th to beat Chicago 6-5, despite a 39th home run by Cub shortstop Ernie Banks that gave him the major league lead.

MILO SAVAGE DEFEATS MIMS

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—Salt Lake City's Milo Savage wore down Holly Mims of Washington, D. C., with a steady barrage of punches last night to gain a unanimous decision over the No. 2 ranked midweight.

Savage weighed 158, Mims 133½. The unranked Savage thus avenged a loss he suffered to Mims in Brooklyn last winter in an unpopular decision.

Savage systematically stalked Mims around the ring last night and kept him on the defensive with a variety of hard punches. Mims fell to the canvas in the ninth, more from exhaustion than anything else.

Judge Harold McNeill scored it 5-3-2, Judge Bob Elias 5-4-1 and Judge Archie Robbins 6-4, all for the Salt Lake boxer. The referee had no say in the decision.

PROS BUNCHED IN RUSH TOWARD TAM GOLF GOLD

By CHARLES CHAMBERLAIN

CHICAGO (AP)—The rush to stake out claims on Tam O'Shanter's golf gold had reached Yukon proportions today as 27 pros, separated by only four strokes, tried to keep to the front in the "World" money stampede.

Three comparative youngsters defied the "shakes" to roll into the first round lead yesterday in an opening bombardment of par 72.

Bob Rosburg, 28, who grips a club like a baseball bat and swings for home runs; Mike Krak, 27, Czechoslovakian-born novice on the PGA tourney circuit; and Gene Littler, 25, fourth leading money winner—each ripped a 66 from Tam's lush 6,900-yard course to share the first round lead.

But there were others still strongly on the scent of a treasure that goes to the 72-hole winner—$50,000 in cash, $55,000 for 55 exhibitions, $1,000 in caddy fees, and an option on 50 more exhibitions at $1,000 each.

Others Nearby
One stroke away at 67, were two seasoned cash seekers, Fred Hawkins and Bob Winginger.

At 68 were Antonio Cerdas, the gay gauchito from Buenos Aires; Henry Ransom, and longshot Jay Hebert.

Crammed in at 69 were Paul O'Leary, U.S. Open champion Jack Fleck, Gardner Dickinson, Wally Ulrich, British Open champion Peter Thomson, Ernie Ball, Shelly Mayfield and Walker Imman.

Other divisional leaders in the "World" tourney were:
Women pros ($12,000 in prize money)—Patty Berg and Fay Crocker, each with 5-under-par 71's.

Women amateurs—Gloria Fecht, Inglewood, Calif., 76, and Ruth Jensen, Seattle, 77.
Men amateurs—Doug Sanders, Cedartown, Ga., 67.

AUSTRALIA AND ITALY TANGLE FOR CUP PLAY

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Mighty Australia and Italy, a onetime tennis stepchild, tangle today in the Davis Cup interzone finals for the right to challenge the defending champion United States team for the coveted mug.

Aussie Captain Harry Hopman, with his back to the wall, hauled Lew Hoad out of mothballs and assigned him one of the singles spots as a token of his respect for the Italians. Hoad, a muscular blond who helped Australia whip the United States twice in the Challenge Round, was scheduled to face Fausto Gardini in the first match at the Germantown Cricket Club.

The second singles sent Ken Rosewall against Nicola Pietrangeli. The doubles, scheduled for tomorrow, will pait Hoad and Rex Hartwig against Pietrangeli and Orlando Sirola. The final two singles matches of the best-of-five series, reversing the first day's order, will be played Sunday. The Challenge Round is scheduled for Forest Hills Aug. 26-27-28.

But all attention today is focused on 14-year-old Wanda Warner of the Walter Reed Swim Club, Washington, D. C., who will try to turn the tables on her Pan-American games conqueror, Helen Stewart of Montreal, Canada. Last March in Mexico City the two sprinted to the finish line of the 100-meter freestyle in identical 1:07.7 times with Miss Stewart declared the winner by a scant touch. Joy Alderson of Chicago who won the event last year, is not defending.

Three other titles will be on the line today and tonight in the swim meet being conducted in Fairmount Park's John B. Kelly Olympic Pool.

Villanova announced yesterday that Mackrides will serve as quarterback and end coach, while De Filippo will handle the freshman coaching chores.

Macrides is a graduate of the University of Nevada and West Chester (Pa.) State Teachers College.

The winner of the tournament will represent Pennsylvania in the Little League World Series beginning Aug. 23.

2 Homers For Monks
Wellsboro spotted West Newton four first inning runs, three on a homer by centerfielder Al Specht, who later was switched to pitcher.

Ken Monks slammed the first of two homers for Wellsboro in the second with one on. Other Wellsboro homers were hit by pitcher John Delbert and Joe Patt.

Six of the seven runs in the Harrisburg-Oil City game came on homers. A two-run clout in the last inning by left fielder Butch Toy pulled the game out of the fire for the western Pennsylvania team.

Oil City's first two runs came on a homer by pitcher Bob Flickner. Harrisburg pitcher John Blanch hit a two-run homer in the first inning.

RIVALS MEET IN PAN-AM GAMES

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A heated international rivalry that began in last spring's Pan-American games highlights today's session of the four-day Women's National AAU Swimming and Diving Championships.

The meet got off to a good start last night with Carolyn Green of Fort Lauderdale, Fla., winning her fourth successive national 1,500-meter freestyle championship, despite a sinus attack, and the Indianapolis Athletic Club, setting a new junior national record in the 100-meter backstroke of 1:17.1. The old record was 1:18.8.

But all attention today is focused on 14-year-old Wanda Warner of the Walter Reed Swim Club, Washington, D. C., who will try to turn the tables on her Pan-American games conqueror, Helen Stewart of Montreal, Canada. Last March in Mexico City the two sprinted to the finish line of the 100-meter freestyle in identical 1:07.7 times with Miss Stewart declared the winner by a scant touch. Joy Alderson of Chicago who won the event last year, is not defending.

Three other titles will be on the line today and tonight in the swim meet being conducted in Fairmount Park's John B. Kelly Olympic Pool.

May Try Game Again Tonight

With rain washing out Thursday night's scheduled game between the Moose and Eagles in the Community Softball League, previously postponed from Wednesday night also because of rain, the two squads will try again at 7:30 o'clock tonight on Recreation Field, weather permitting.

League officials said that if it is impossible to play the game tonight, the regular schedule of double-headers in the semi-finals will be resumed Monday night, and the postponed game will be played at the end of the semi-final series, if there is need for it to decide the winner of the best-of-five series.

The games Monday will begin with the Moose vs. the Eagles at 7 o'clock and Texas Lunch vs. VFW following that game.

So far the Lunchmen and the Vets have each won one game in their series, and the Moose won the first game with the Eagles.

DILLSBURG BOWS TO W. FAIRVIEW

New Cumberland, scoring four times in the fourth inning, defeated Mt. Holly, 4-1, to gain a tie for first place as the West Shore Twilight League closed its regular season Thursday evening.

The two teams will play off tonight to decide first place. George Bowen, New Cumberland manager, won the toss of the coin for the site.

In the battle for fourth, Lemoyne and Army Depot matched triumphs. Lemoyne whipping Mechanicsburg, 7-1, behind the five-hit pitching of Don Kutz, and Army Depot, beating out Enola, 5-2. Dillsburg bowed 3-2, to West Fairview, to fade from the picture. Lemoyne has two games to play, but Army Depot is finished.

5 Teen-Agers Seek Tennis Finals Spot

Five teen-agers, with one loss apiece, are battling for a finals berth in the Teen-Age Tennis Tournament. One of them will meet unbeaten Sid Steinhorn in the finals, scheduled for next week.

Jack Kunkle, a 6-0, 6-3 victor over Dave Weiner, will play Don Moser today, weather permitting. The winner will meet Rod Steinhorn next week for one of the semifinal slots.

The teams will be filled when Jim Gilbert plays Hugh McIlhenny over the weekend.

Ken Mummert and Ralph Kessel were both dropped from the tournament. Their match was scheduled several times, "rec" officials said, but neither appeared, and a double forfeit was declared. The 12-15 age division has also been discontinued for this tournament, because the youngsters were not playing off their matches.

The teams will resume play next week. So far the Cards have won six games and lost one; the Red Sox have won four and lost three; the Yanks have won four and lost four and the Giants have won one and lost seven.

LITTLE LEAGUE DAY SUNDAY AT LITTLESTOWN; TO GIVE AWARDS

Little League Day will be celebrated in Littlestown on Sunday afternoon with two games matching the four Little League teams and special mid-game ceremonies with presentation of annual awards.

The affair will be held on Littlestown Memorial Field, beginning at 1:30 p.m., when the Eagles will oppose the Vets. Following the award presentations, about 3 o'clock, the Giants will match the Lions. There will be no admission cost to the field.

Between contests, the twelve-year-old players, who will participate in their final Little League game on Sunday, will be introduced to the fans and will be presented with certificates signifying that they took part in the league. An award will be given to the outstanding twelve-year-old, and the recipient will be chosen on the fine qualities of sportsmanship, conduct on and off the field, ability, interest, character in general, etc. Awards will be made to the leading pitcher, home-run hitter, etc.

The team which captured first place of the four competing teams for this season, the Vets, will receive an award. During the four years of Little League ball in Littlestown, the teams standing first in the close of each season were: In 1952, Lions; 1953, Vets; 1954, Eagles, and again this year, the Vets.

The local all-stars participated in the District Four playoffs for the first time this year. Several weeks ago they defeated Gettysburg and McConnellsburg in the area games played at Fayetteville. In the District Four playoffs, staged at Newville, the Littlestown All-Stars were defeated by Suburban National.

Managers of the teams for this season have been: Vets team, Donald C. Feaser and Robert Myers; Lions, Karl P. Bankert and Merle Weikert; Giants, Edward H. Leister, B. M. Jones and Ben F. Hanlon; Eagles, G. Richard Knipple and Robert C. Koonz.

Rain Shortens Game
This evening the mothers of the Little Leaguers will be selling booster tickets throughout the business section of the community. Proceeds from the ticket sales will be used for the benefit of promoting and assisting in financing Little League in Littlestown. The league is now being sponsored by the local Rotary, Lions and Women's Community Club, Fraternal Order of Eagles and Veterans of Foreign Wars.

This evening at 6 o'clock the Eagles will play the Giants at the Little League diamond on the community playground.

On Thursday the game between the Lions and Vets was called in the fourth inning due to rain with a tie score of 2-2.

Amleto Giovanni Cicognani, apostolic delegate to the United States and titular archbishop of Laodicea, will dedicate the building assisted by the Most Rev. George L. Leach, D.D., J.C.D., bishop of Harrisburg.

Begin as a gift from C. J. Delone, Hanover attorney and businessman, the school is being completed as his memorial. While blessing the new $108,000 McSherrytown grade school on July 2, 1940, Bishop Leach announced that Mr. Delone had donated a ten-acre tract and $200,000 to construct a high school to replace one destroyed by fire in February, 1938.

But little more than two months after the cornerstone was laid on November 5, 1939, Mr. Delone died at the age of 75. As a memorial tribute, Bishop Leach ordered the name changed from Central Catholic high, as the former building had been known, to the Delone Catholic high.

The Rev. Cyril J. Allwein, principal of Central Catholic, will head the new school with an augmented faculty.

Few acts of our lives have such a lingering death as an unkind word, or a bitter remark given to one we love, or whom we ought to love, or which is given to us. Nothing scatters, heals, inspires, and gives us a lift, however, like just the opposite. The kind word and new encouragement are like a caller knocking at our door with a present for us — something unexpected.

These unkind words, thoughtlessly uttered, always leave scars in the hearts of others, and in our own heart, too. We can live to regret them, and we can be sorry and be granted forgiveness but the scars always remain.

Wars come and go, but the scars remain. History is all marked up with the narration of wanton damages done while wars went on. Nations never seem to learn that all wars are waste and destruction. They leave scars everywhere. But the most serious ones are to be found in the hearts of those who offered up their lives in battle. Homes everywhere are sealed with scars during and after every war.

What is more precious than peace? With no war going on what opportunities there are for happiness! It takes a long time for the scars of war to heal. They go into generation after generation. Too many people go around in our everyday life with scars concealed, and too many of them taking too long to heal.

There are so many fine and wonderful things we can leave behind us as we wind our way through life. We can leave behind a memory of pleasantness, courtesy, unselfishness, and interest in the lives of those whom we contact. We can leave behind a hunger for our return, and be missed, which is always something to cheer one!

Friends have gone from me who do not seem to be gone, for there are so many beautiful memories of them left behind. I believe this is the experience of many. Sometimes the very thought of these wipe out the scars of others!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Flowers."

CUSTOMER AND CLERK
"The customer is always right" they tell me.
And I am one, insisting those who sell me
Must always be pleasant and uncomplaining
Though I may be a grumbler when it's raining.
I may be disagreeable and worried.
I may be out of patience when I'm hurried.
But when before a counter I am standing
I'm right, although discourteous and demanding.
I like attention. Gladly I receive it.
But say I'm always right. I don't believe it.
Troubles are common. No one hasn't any.
Clerks may have more than I, or often just as many.
I am not always right and well I know it.
I'm quick to anger and too oft I show it.
A headache makes the customer a fretter.
But clerks with headaches bear them so much better.

HEAT, RAINFALL CAUSE DECLINE IN STATE CROPS

HARRISBURG (AP)—The State Agriculture Department says hot weather and below normal rainfall during July caused substantial declines in Pennsylvania corn, wheat, potato and tobacco production estimates.

A federal-state survey also showed that Pennsylvania apple and peach production prospects declined during the month.

The department said yesterday corn production is now estimated at 57,120,000 bushels, a drop of slightly more than 4 million bushels during the month.

Wheat Declines
Wheat, at 16,172,000 bushels, showed a drop of about 1,245,000 bushels while potato production estimates, previously at 13,680,000 bushels, were down 2 million bushels. Tobacco was down 5,400,000 pounds from 40,915,000 pounds.

Production on each of these crops is now below last year and under average, the department said. Lack of rain affected the sizing of apples and peaches while hot weather hastened maturity in eastern Pennsylvania where most of these fruits are grown, the report said.

Eric Section Better
The Lake Erie shore area was not as hard hit as eastern areas and prospects for apples are better there than last year "and continue good for peaches," the department declared. The Erie section had from two to three inches of rain during July.

The Aug. 1 estimate for apples, peaches and grapes showed no change from July 1. The apple crop of six million bushels is about the same as last year and the same as the 10-year average.

Peach Estimates
Pennsylvania peach estimates are for a crop of 2,320,000 bushels compared with 2,530,000 last year and the average of 2,189,000 bushels.

Sizing of apples in the Adams-Franklin-York fruit belt has been fair in most orchards due to only 1 1/2 to 2 inches of July rainfall, the department said.

The report continued: "Oats estimates advanced about 3,000,000 bushels between July 1 and Aug. 1. The crop is now given at 35,552,000 bushels which is about 2,000,000 above last year and 10,000,000 above average."

Barley Up
Barley is estimated at 8,958,000 bushels an advance of more than 90,000 bushels over July 1 estimates.

"Rye, at 420,000 bushels is 20,000 less than July 1. There was no change in hay or fruit production estimates."

The department said hot and dry weather and little rain during July drained soils of moisture. The sustained heat wave with temperatures most days in the 90's caused much vegetation to wilt in eastern and central counties, hardest hit by the dry conditions.

ADMITTS ROBBERING BUFFALO BANK

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The FBI said today that Jacob R. Schutner, 26, has admitted robbing a bank near Buffalo, N.Y., of $11,000 Monday.

Charles E. Weeks, special agent in charge of the Miami FBI office, said Schutner, whose home is in Buffalo, admitted following his arrest that he robbed the bank just two minutes before closing time.

A snap-eyed FBI agent spotted Schutner's automobile at a street intersection in nearby Fort Lauderdale late yesterday and brought about his arrest on a federal complaint and warrant issued in Buffalo Wednesday.

Schutner will be given a hearing today before U.S. Commissioner Roger E. Davis. Details of the statement were not revealed but the FBI said Schutner "has admitted the crime."

At the time of his arrest, Schutner had $7,000 in his possession, most of it hidden in a paper bag and stuffed into socks in the trunk of the new Oldsmobile 88.

Weeks said the complaint and warrant charged Schutner with robbery of the Thruway Branch of the Manufacturers and Traders Trust Co. of Cheektowaga, N.Y., on Aug. 8, in which $11,000 was taken.

Baltimore Symphony Will Play Jazz Piece
BALTIMORE (AP)—Symphony Conductor Tullio Serafin, living up to a promise to liven up the local classical music scene, plans to present "Concerto for Jazz Band and Symphony Orchestra" at a concert next fall.

On the outer fringe of the Lyric Theater stage will be the 86 pieces of the Baltimore Symphony. In the middle will be what the program calls a progressive jazz ensemble—the 19-piece Sauter-Finnegan Orchestra.

The concerto, written by a modern German composer named Lieberman, is essentially a dialogue between the jazz group and the symphony orchestra, Massimo said.

YOUTH BURIED IN DITCH CAVEIN AT HARRISBURG

An 18-year-old youth died in a ditch cavein on Schuylkill St. Thursday while his brother, the job foreman, watched helplessly.

Donald Ellicker, of Dillsburg R. 1, was buried under ten feet of stone and earth for a half hour. A dozen rescue workers and a steam shovel worked feverishly to dig him out. Polyclinic Hospital attendants administered artificial respiration for several minutes, until Dr. Jeffrey Carson pronounced young Ellicker dead.

Charles Ellicker, 30, saw the dirt fall in and bury his brother.

Drilling For Dynamite
The victim and Charles Sheaffer, 34, of Dillsburg R. 1, were working together in the ditch at Schuylkill and Real Sts. when the walls caved in. The two were drilling holes for dynamite charges. Sheaffer was trapped by the legs, but was able to dig himself out.

The dead youth had been employed by the Basore Construction Corp. for about a year. The company is installing a sewer line in Schuylkill St. for the city. Following the accident work was shut down for the day.

Funeral services for Ellicker will be held at 2 p.m. Monday in the funeral home in Dillsburg. The Rev. William T. Swann Jr., pastor of the Monaghan Presbyterian Church, Dillsburg, will officiate. Burial will be in Dillsburg Cemetery. Friends may call after 7 p.m. Sunday at the funeral home.

He is survived by his wife, Shirley J. Ellicker; his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Ellicker; two brothers, Charles and Lewis; a sister, Mrs. Raymond Albert; and his paternal grandfather, Lewis Ellicker, all of Dillsburg R. 1.

CELLER, WEEKS STRUGGLE OVER PROBE OF FILES

WASHINGTON (AP) — Roundish Sinclair Weeks, Republican secretary of commerce and not the most direct answerer of questions Washington has ever seen, is in a suspended struggle with a Brooklyn Democrat, Rep. Emanuel Celler.

Celler, 67, and chairman of a House Judiciary subcommittee on antitrust matters, is trying to force Weeks, 62, and Bostonian, to let him see the files of a group of businessmen who advise the secretary on problems ranging from antitrust to labor.

This group—named the Business Advisory Council—is made up of 165 top men from some of the biggest corporations in America. Weeks himself, a lifelong businessman, has been president or director of a wide field of corporations.

Weeks, after refusing to let Celler see the BAC's files, yesterday called a news conference to talk about it.

Massive Attack
Right at the outset he declared that "people who don't believe in what the Eisenhower administration 'believes in,' have launched a massive attack on the free enterprise system. That was his biggest moment.

Under repeated questioning by newsmen to name one person as making or instigating the "massive attack," Weeks' only answer was "I will not deal in personalities" or "If the shoe fits anyone, let him wear it."

He was asked a lot of other questions but used up about 30 minutes answering most of them with "I don't know" or "I'm not a lawyer, am I?" Some of the newsmen left in boredom before the conference was over.

The members of BAC meet six times a year. They pay all their own expenses. Their executive director, Walter White, whom they pay $25,000 a year, has his office in Week's Commerce Department.

Created By Roosevelt
BAC is not new. It was created in 1933 under President Roosevelt's New Deal to give the secretary of commerce advice on business and economics. It was apparently considered useful. Democrats and Republicans have continued it without interruption.

Since Republican Weeks is only doing what his Democratic predecessors did in this regard, why is Democrat Celler trying to poke around in BAC's files?

Celler, as head of the Antitrust subcommittee, claims he wants to find out whether BAC's businessmen are merely advising Weeks or helping set government policy and whether they are using BAC in some way for their own special benefit.

Celler demanded that White appear before his subcommittee this week with the records on BAC's doings and dealings. But Weeks stepped in with a letter refusing to let White produce the files. This is Weeks' argument: BAC's work is confidential with him; the Commerce Department has BAC's records and claims them as its own; since the department is part of the executive branch of the government it can refuse the demands of another branch, in this case Congress, to see its confidential records.

This is the separation-of-powers

Welkert, most recently married couple, 4 months; Mrs. Clinton Keener, Hagerstown, Md., largest family of three generations; Mrs. Beatrice Riley, Scarsdale, N. Y., person traveling the farthest distance.

The 1956 reunion will be held the first Saturday in August at the Sam Lewis State Park, York County.

Harney

HARNEY — The regular meeting of Harney Volunteer Fire Company was held Monday evening with 27 members present. The meeting was opened by the president, Fred Spangler and prayer by M. O. Fuss. Bills were approved.

The firemen are planning for a fried chicken supper September 17 from 2:30 until 7 p.m. On Monday evening, August 15 the firemen will hold a corn bake and wiener roast for members and their families at the fire hall.

On Wednesday, August 31, the firemen will gather iron and any kind of metal.

The Harney Ball Club will have a card party in the firemen's fire hall, August 22. Monday evening Mr. and Mrs. George Shriver and son, John, spent the evening in Hanover and called on Mrs. Nadine Shriver, of Hanover.

Rueben Gruber, of Baltimore, Mrs. Thelma Pfeiffer and children, of Baltimore, visited Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Shriver.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strickhouser attended services Sunday morning at Taneytown High School with Robert G. LeTourneau, of Longgreen, Texas, delivering the message.

On last Thursday, Mrs. Minnie Hatch, of Bluff, Ill., visited with her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Clutz in the afternoon. Mrs. Wade Brown and daughters, Barbara, Sally and Mrs. Daniel Yingling, spent a few hours with them.

Mrs. Harry Angell returned home Friday evening after a week's visit with her daughter, Mrs. Webster Ketter in Rome New York.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Valentine spent from Friday until Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Singer, of Waynesboro, also attended church.

theory used many times in American history by the executive branch when it wanted to refuse Congress a look at its files.

Whether Weeks is right in this case remains to be seen, for this reason: BAC is not a government agency and not part of the executive branch although Weeks says he has possession of its files.

At any rate the struggle between Celler and Weeks is suspended until October. Celler, after growling at Weeks and threatening to be tough about it, has postponed the subcommittee's pursuit of BAC's records.

GOV'T CURTAILS TAX INCENTIVES IN INDUSTRIES

By JOE HALL
WASHINGTON, (AP)—Sen. O'Mahoney (D-Wyo.) said today the Eisenhower administration "should be congratulated" for moving to curtail tax benefits which have helped industry expand in the past five years.

Director Arthur S. Flemming of the Office of Defense Mobilization

Sunday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Richard Crouse and daughter, Linda Ann, and Mrs. Marion Haines. Harold Cool, of Littlestown, called at the same home Monday evening.

Mrs. Ella Null, of Baltimore; Mrs. Hannah Eckenrode and Ruth Snider, Harney, spent last Tuesday as dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Pink, of Taneytown R. 2.

Mrs. Ella Null, Baltimore, spent Wednesday night and Thursday with Mr. and Mrs. John Waybright. They also called on Oliver Waybright from there to Waybright's daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Yingling, who live on the pleasant farm. They also drove by the president's farm which joins the Yingling property.

announced late yesterday new orders which may lead to a sharp tapering off in the kind of tax incentives which have been granted for some 30½ billion dollars worth of plant and equipment expansion held to be essential to national security.

The action came after a series of other orders aimed at tightening up the supply of credit. Some administration officials have warned that a gradual effort to prevent prices from starting to climb again.

Flemming ordered an end to special tax benefits in 19 industries and a suspension, pending a review expected to take a month or more, in 38 others. The incentives were kept available for 20 "expansion goals" — chiefly applying to items of high military demand.

The government has pending 924 applications for the tax benefits, covering about $9,300,000,000 of proposed new plant and equipment construction. About six billions of this is in the 38 industries for which Flemming ordered the temporary suspension yesterday.

It was too early to tell what effect the orders would have. The Consolidated Edison Co. of New York said its construction plans would not be affected at all. But the Aluminum Co. of America indicated at Pittsburgh it might drop some of its expansion plans if the tax benefits for that industry are shut off for good.

Industry Review
Both electric power and aluminum are in the category suspended pending further study, during which no applications will be processed. Flemming said industries in this class would be reviewed to determine whether "adequate productive capacity" for mobilization needs exists, and then they will be reopened or closed.

O'Mahoney said in an interview the tax incentives first granted after war started in Korea were supposed to be for defense purposes. But in the last two years they have been extended to many industries have no direct connection with defense and thus were "due for curtailment," he added.

The suspended "expansion goals" included such industries as electric power, iron and steel, railroads, oil, metals including aluminum, commercial aircraft, ocean shipping, chemicals and airport facilities.

The industries for which the tax benefits were ended include asbestos, lead, manganese ore, cement, tungsten, zinc, various alloying minerals, and certain tires.

The 20 expansion goals kept open for the fast writeoffs cover such items as aviation fuel, copper, nickel, mercury, titanium, and products ordered directly by the armed services and the Atomic Energy Commission.

BROWNS FAVORED OVER ALL-STARS IN 22ND TILT

By JAMES DAILEY

CHICAGO (AP)—Tonight's the night a bunch of college boys try to beat the football pros at their own game.

The College All-Stars—made up of 49 of the top players of the 1954 college season—tackle the Cleveland Browns in the Chicago Tribune Charities' 22nd annual all-star game.

The contest starting at 8:30 p.m. (EST) at Soldier Field will be televised over the ABC network and broadcast over the Mutual radio hookup.

Under Pro Rules

The game will be played under the professional rules allowing free substitution. Last year the All-Stars were defeated by the Detroit Lions, 31-6, playing under their own limited substitution rules.

But the main difference from previous All-Star contests is that the current All-Stars have been coached in the wide-open, passing, pro style of play by four experts in the field. In other years this chore was performed by a staff of college coaches.

The current staff is led by Curly Lambeau of Green Bay Packer fame, assisted by Hank Anderson, Steve Owen and Hank Pook, all veterans of the pro football wars.

Fine Talent

They have hand-picked their own squad, and the word is out that they have whipped it into a formidable aggregation for the big test against the national football league champions.

The college squad is shot through with talent—quarterbacks Ralph Guglielmi of Notre Dame, Paul Larson of California, George Shaw of Oregon and Dave Leggett of Ohio State; ball carriers Alan Ameche of Wisconsin, Bobby Watkins of Ohio State and Dick Bielski of Maryland; and linemen Max Boydston of Oklahoma, Dick Syzanski of Notre Dame and Bud Brooks of Arkansas.

Cleveland, however, remains a two touchdown favorite, despite the loss of their great quarterback, Otto Graham, who retired at the end of last season. But Graham's loss is not expected to be sorely felt as coach Paul Brown has a more than capable replacement in the veteran George Ratterman.

KENTUCKY EWE IS SENT TO IKE

WARSAW, Ky. (AP)—Two boys whose family has raised sheep for 91 years yesterday sent a fellow farmer, Dwight D. Eisenhower of Gettysburg, Pa., a prize-winning ewe.

Robert and Louis Erbanc told the President in a letter that they had read he had received cattle and hogs for his farm but no sheep.

"So we are shipping to you express prepaid one of our Kentucky State Fair prize-winning ewes from our F.F.A. project," they wrote. F.F.A. stands for the Future Farmers of America.

LEGIONNAIRES CONSIDER NEW RESOLUTIONS

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Pennsylvania's American Legionnaires today settled down to the business of their 37th annual convention on resolutions expected to affect national Legion policy.

The delegates from the Legion's largest state department were to consider a resolution calling for a continuing opposition to diplomatic recognition of Communist China.

The resolution backs up the words of Sen. Knowland (R-Cal.) at the opening session yesterday. Knowland said it would be a "violation of all moral principles upon which the United Nations is supposed to rest" to admit Red China.

"I am opposed to such admission and to recognition of the Communist regime by the government of the United States," Knowland said. He added:

"Yielding more free people or territory now might perhaps give a temporary mirage of peace but the waterless, moral, spiritual and governmental waste of the international communist desert would remain with all its stark realism of slave labor camps, captive satellite nations and tyrannical police state methods."

Knowland declared the "isolationists of today are among some of our European associates who believe that Europe can be saved by the sacrifice of Asia." He continued:

"This is a dangerous doctrine and there is ample historic precedent to show that appeasement is not the road to peace but is surrender on the installment plan." Other resolutions slated to be called up include such topics as federal pensions for World War I veterans and a bonus for veterans of World War II.

The Forty & Eight staged its annual parade through downtown streets last night, complete with bands, floats and the traditional locomotives. Thousands gathered to watch as the merry-makers tooted and whistled their way to Gateway Center, the hub of the business section.

Backfiring Pump Brings Policemen

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Two rookie policemen got started with a bang and ended up with red faces yesterday.

Driving by the Water Department pumping station, they heard a loud explosion and immediately summoned fire and police emergency equipment.

Godfrey Damages Wing Of His Plane

TETERBORO, N.J. (AP)—Arthur Godfrey, who's had trouble before at Teterboro Airport, damaged the right wing of his plane yesterday when it hit a ground light.

According to an airport spokesman, the red-haired entertainer was taxiing his DC3 on the runway in preparation for takeoff for his Virginia home. No one was hurt. Godfrey was expected to take off sometime today after repairs.

In March 1954, Godfrey's pilot license was suspended for six months for flying low over the Teterboro control tower.

THE COURAGE OF DANIEL

Daniel 5:17-28

Key Verse: It is right not to eat meat or drink wine or do anything that makes your brother stumble. Romans 14:21.

In last week's lesson we were introduced to the life and practices of the Jewish exiles during the time of the Babylonian captivity. Part of the text came from the Book of Daniel — that which described the trial of Shadrach, Meshach, and Abednego in the fiery furnace.

Daniel, prophet and statesman of this Babylonian period, was officially a statesman, so his prophecies differ somewhat in character from those of the other prophets. Consequently, he did not export his contemporaries as was the particular function of the prophets. His book has been called "the first philosophy of history" and is generally classified as an apocalypse. It was written partly in Hebrew and partly in Aramaic. The portions dealing with the life of the Jews in a foreign land and with the deeds of the kings under whom he served are all written in Aramaic, the diplomatic and commercial language of the period.

This remarkable statesman served with distinction under several different administrations or dynasties: under Nebuchadnezzar, and under the successive reigns of Darius, the Mede, and Cyrus, the Persian. His gift of interpretation and prophecy was openly recognized and, because of his loyal, faithful service, he became a powerful influence in Babylon. He was virtually head of the province of Babylon under Nebuchadnezzar and he was president of a board of three under Darius, with authority over 120 satraps.

But Daniel never abused his temporal power. He was first and foremost a man of God and as such he dared to speak the truth boldly. Each time he was required to interpret a dream or omen, he spoke the truth freely about the future destiny of the nation. He believed that God Himself directs history. Repeatedly Daniel speaks of the greatness of God and His divine will for the nations.

Never Abused Powers

The scripture passages for this lesson give the account of Daniel at Belshazzar's feast. In it (Daniel 5:17-24) the prophet recounts to the assembled lords and the king the fabled experiences of Nebuchadnezzar — his power, his hardness, his loss of the throne, his madness, his final confession. Belshazzar, descendant of Nebuchadnezzar, was ruling as regent with his father Nebonidus. These Chaldeans worshipped their own power. In defiance of all that was holy, they drank wine from the sacred vessels taken from the temple of the Lord.

As this thousand of revellers were at the height of their drunk-

ness and merrymaking, a hand was seen writing on the wall. The mysterious hand disappeared but the strange words remained on the wall. Fear now replaced revelry as the stupefied assembly gazed uncertainly. None of the astrologers could interpret the writing, so the queen, likely mother of Belshazzar, thought of Daniel. The statesman-prophet was summoned to decipher it. Daniel's introduction and interpretation were a model of diplomacy. He led up to the interpretation by recounting Nebuchadnezzar's life, giving substance but in no wise compromising.

Not A Defeatist

Would that every leader placed in a similar delicate situation would "dare to be a Daniel!" "And this was the writing that was inscribed: MENE, MENE, TEKEL, and PARSIN. This is the interpretation of the matter: MENE, God has numbered the days of your kingdom and brought it to an end; TEKEL, you have been weighed in the balances and found wanting; PERES your kingdom is divided and given to the Medes and the Persians."

to assume a defeatist's attitude at any time. When temporal matters seemed beyond control, he never lost faith but continued to look forward steadfastly to the restoration of his people to their homeland. Few Jews in history have ever risen to such high position as he. Even Joseph as the chief ruler of the house of Pharaoh never had the power or influence of Daniel.

Daniel possessed a calm courage in the face of fear, confusion, and misunderstanding. He stands out in history as one who had the spiritual strength to rise above the affairs of the world, always looking to God as the Chief Controller of the destinies of men and nations.

It is a wise father who takes time out now and then to be chummy with his boy and to participate in his sports. The lad in the picture beams his pleasure as his dad prepares to "pitch him a few."

The bond of companionship between a good father and his son is one of the most helpful influences that can come into the life of a boy. Boys who enjoy such companionship seldom go astray.

What a striking contrast we observe in the other picture! Guilt and fear are written on the face of the boy with the stolen fruit. He has started on the long and painful road that leads to disaster.

Juvenile delinquency is one of the great social problems of our time. Unwholesome influences are abroad in the world to lead children astray. Without parental guidance, many of them drift into evil ways.

Parents need the help of God and the counsel of the Church in meeting this responsibility.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are (1) For his own sake (2) For his children's sake (3) For the sake of his community and nation (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

UNIFORM RANK OUT TO OUTDO LAST SEASON'S PARADE RECORD

The 69 members of the uniformed rank of Alpha Fire Company of Littlestown will tell you there is a thrill when a marching unit really hits its stride, with every man in step, every rank and file straight as a die.

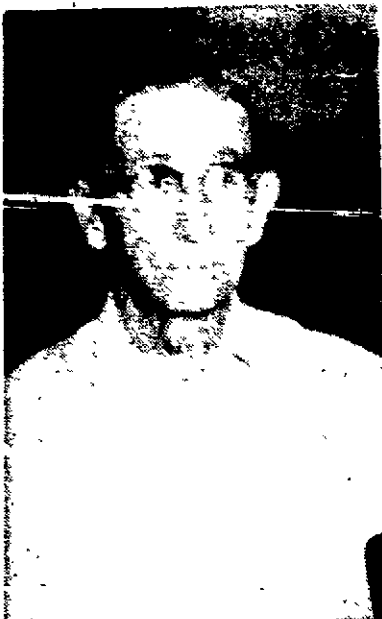

And that is a thrill to which the members of the unit are accustomed, for the organization, founded two years ago, has given a spectacular demonstration of marching skill during that period.

They give much credit to their drillmaster, Edward Sentz, who calls them out on the playground at Littlestown early in the season to perfect their marching skill. This time of year when the company takes part in a number of parades, there is little need for practice—the men get their practice while parading.

Won $1,500 Last Year
Last year the unit won more than $1,500 in prize money, marching behind another equally qualified marching unit—the Littlestown High School band. They won 13 first prizes during the year. This year they hope to equal that record if all goes well.

The marchers are of all ages, ranging up to 76-year-old Edward J. Altoff, who Littlestown officials believe is the oldest marching fireman anywhere. There are some other oldsters with the fire company, too, who are members of the marching unit, such as John Sterner, who has about 50 years of fire company membership, in two "hitches," so he is not the record holder for active continuous membership. A fine figure of a man, the septuagenarian Mr. Sterner, rides with the marching unit in many parades.

Mr. Altoff, proud of his ability to march along with the 20- and 30-year-old men of the uniformed rank, began his marching experience some 56 years ago in Gettysburg.

EDWARD J. ALTOff

JOHN STERNER

Helps With Carnival
He played the cornet with the Gettysburg band and was a member of the Gettysburg Fire Department for "five or six years" back more than a half century ago while employed by T. J. Winebrenner, here, learning the tuning trade. He was

OLD TIMERS TO PLAY AUG. 19TH

The pages of baseball history will be turned back 20 to 25 years, when memories of the old York-Adams Baseball League will be recaptured on Friday, August 19, as the Littlestown Old Timers meet the Hanover Old Timers in a game to be played under the lights of Littlestown Memorial Field. The game is scheduled to get under way at 8:30 p.m., with parade and ceremonies preceding. The event is being sponsored by the Littlestown Baseball Club.

For the past several years, the Littlestown Old Timers have been staging this game among themselves to the tune of several hundred spectators, which last year numbered over 700. This year's game will be different in that the Hanover Old Timers will furnish the opposition for the local stars of by-gone days. Hanover and Littlestown both played for many years in the old York-Adams Baseball League and many a thrilling game resulted in their meetings. A number of these same players in the 1930 to 1940 years will be participating in the game next Friday night.

Littlestown will have a squad of 26 men in uniform and Hanover will have 27 Old Timers. Don Feiser and Bud Bankert will manage the local former players, with Mel Spangler and Frank Shuff as the coaches. Jack Kane and Left Rohrbaugh will direct the Hanover team.

born near Round Top, came to Gettysburg to learn his trade, then moved to Littlestown 50 years ago and was a tinsmith for about 38 years, then went to work for a shoe factory in Littlestown and then retired last January. He became a member of the Littlestown fire company about 1907, and over the years has been marching regularly with Littlestown fire department outfits.

Mr. Altoff has another source of pride in his fire company members. He has been chairman of the finance committee for the firemen's carnival there since it was started about 20 years ago, and each year has been busy each carnival handling the change and counting the money taken in at the event.

His fellow marchers claim "he can take it better than the younger men," as the company parades in town after town. Some of the younger ones give him some of the credit for the success of the marching unit—"When you see Mr. Altoff marching along, at 76, it just naturally makes you march a little better."

SAY HARRIMAN AND STEVENSON REACH ACCORD ON NOMINATION

By JACK BELL

CHICAGO (AP)—Adlai E. Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman of New York apparently have reached an informal working agreement aimed at bringing one of them the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination.

Associates confirmed that the former Illinois governor, who was beaten by President Eisenhower in 1952, has come to an understanding with Harriman under which Stevenson will get first crack.

These associates said, however, that if it becomes apparent at any point in the next 12 months that Stevenson is unlikely to make the grade, he could be expected to attempt to shift his strength quickly to Harriman.

Two Powerful Blocs

Together Stevenson and Harriman represent the two potentially most powerful voting blocs in next summer's convention. Starting with his Illinois home base vote of 60, Stevenson has wide support within the party ranks. There is some doubt, however, that he could muster sufficient votes to win the nomination without New York's 94 in the early balloting.

It is accepted generally that unless something happens to upset the working agreement, that if Stevenson appears to be going into the convention with a commanding position, he will get the New York support that probably would clinch his nomination.

apparently depends on Stevenson's flanking his pre-convention campaign tests after he makes a promised formal announcement of his intentions in November.

Adlai's Camp Divided

The Stevenson camp still is divided on whether the former Illinois governor ought to go into primaries to test his strength locally against other potential candidates like Sen. Estes Kefauver (-Tenn.).

Advisers who oppose such strategy argue that Kefauver won a lot of primaries in 1952 but didn't get the nomination. They say the primary road drains funds and time that might be better spent in other efforts to gather delegates.

On the other hand, some of his advisers think the handicap of Stevenson's 1952 defeat requires him to put his name on the line despite the fact that a single primary loss might be so damaging to his prestige as to cost him the nomination.

Revolt In Dixie

Some Democratic governors who have been attending the 47th annual Governors Conference here have indicated they think Stevenson is going to have to show his prowess as a vote getter within his own party if he expects to be the choice to take on Eisenhower again.

Stevenson also faces some opposition in the South as evidenced by the declaration yesterday by Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas, a 1952 bolter, that he would fight Stevenson's nomination and support "practically anybody"—Democrat or Republican—who opposed him.

Jury Places Blame In Mountain Deaths

BANFF, Alta. (AP)—A coroner's jury last night found that leadership and equipment were "inadequate" for the July 11 climb of 11,636-foot Mt. Temple during which seven U.S. youths died in an avalanche.

The jury, after deliberating 45 minutes, said the teen-agers died from "multiple injuries, shock and exposure."

It found the Canadian Park Department "free of all blame" and commended as "very efficient" its rescue work. Park authorities said they did not know of the boys' plans to climb Mt. Temple, although they had issued them a permit to climb nearby Mt. Rundle.

York Springs

Lonnie Shultz, Gardner, Glenn Fahenstock and Harold Davis Jr., of York Springs R. D., have returned to their homes after a week's stay at Camp Penn, EUB Camp, near Waynesboro. The boys were accompanied home by their parents.

Harvard University libraries contain nearly six million volumes, the largest stock of any university in the United States.

ONLY 8 BODIES FOUND WHERE 66 DIED IN CRASH OVER GERMANY

By GEORGE BOULTWOOD

GROEMBACH, Germany (AP)—American soldiers worked by flashlight through the night collecting scattered, smoldering wreckage from two U. S. transport planes in which 66 servicemen perished yesterday.

The two C-119 Flying Boxcar transports collided during an air transport exercise and plunged flaming to earth near this village 20 miles west of Stuttgart.

There were no survivors of the 11 U. S. airmen of the 10th Troop Carrier Squadron and 55 soldiers of the 499th Engineer Battalion who went down in the two planes.

Find 8 Corpses

Early today eight charred corpses had been recovered. There appeared little hope any more recognizable remains would be salvaged.

The planes, in a flight of nine, had taken off from the U. S. airfield at Echterdingen and were only 4,000 feet up when they crashed and burst into flames. None of the men had a chance to use their parachutes. They carried full equipment for the flight, which was part of a training program in air movement under simulated combat conditions.

Witnesses said one craft had engine trouble and wavered in the formation. It apparently clipped off the tail plane of its neighbor before diving into the tall pines of the Black Forest below.

Names Withheld

The second plane held course for a minute, then also spun out of control and plunged into a cornfield.

The commanding officer of the engineer battalion, Lt. Col. Frank Little, Central City, Neb., died in the crash.

Names of the other victims were withheld.

One of the first American officers to reach the lonely crash site said:

"There wasn't time for them to know what was happening. They must have died instantly."

An investigation was begun.

A typical modern jet fighter plane contains enough electrical wiring to complete the electrical circuits of 38 six-room houses.

Polio Deaths In U.S. Drop 46 Pct. Below 1954 Level

By HERB ALTSCHULL

WASHINGTON (AP)—Doctors have given over a million American youngsters their second Salk polio vaccine shots, with the South leading the way.

All told, 6½ million first and second-graders received a first shot.

Somewhere around 60 to 70 per cent of those with access to the second shot have had it.

What Survey Showed

These figures were turned up today in a nationwide survey conducted by The Associated Press. It showed:

1. The number of polio fatalities has dropped 46 per cent below last year's level. In the key states supplying second shots, the decline has been 65 per cent.

2. Of 6½ million inoculated youngsters, there have been 247 cases of the disease and nine have died of it.

3. Outside the South, there has been considerable resistance to launching the second-shot campaign, which was delayed by uncertainty and shortage of vaccine. Eighteen of the 48 states are waiting for fall to renew the campaign. Few states have made any plans for a third injection.

Deaths Have Dropped

These figures were tabulated on the basis of nearly complete reports from the 48 states and the District of Columbia: Given shot No. 1 — 6,458,996. Given shot No. 2 — 1,080,329. Polio deaths this year — 191. Polio deaths to this time last year — 355.

It is impossible, of course, to draw definitive conclusions from the statistics, since some figures are tentative, they have not been evaluated scientifically, and the possibility of coincidence is too strong.

There can be no doubt, however, that the number of polio fatalities has been reduced sharply from the level of last year, a fairly average year.

No Plan On 3rd Shot

Biggest decline in deaths has been in the eight states which have given 75 per cent of the reported second shots. Of those eight, seven are Southern or border states. They are Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, Mississippi, Oklahoma, South Carolina and West Virginia. The eighth is California.

Vaccine experts have said three shots are required to provide most effective immunity. The injection program of two shots for first and second-graders is being carried out and financed by the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis. It has announced no plan to provide third shots.

Most states went ahead with the first shots shortly after the first batches of vaccine were made available last April. But when an outbreak of polio among vaccinated persons was disclosed, the program was ended abruptly.

Some Holding Up

After the Public Health Service approved new safety testing standards, batches of vaccine were released again. But some states were wary of going ahead with the program. And 18, plus the District of Columbia, are still holding the program in abeyance.

Most of these states report they will resume the program after the school year begins next month. Some say they are not sure when they will start up again.

But, in the meantime, the other 30 states have been going right ahead, some on a small scale, others on a large scale.

DROUGHT BROKEN

PORTALES, N. M. (AP)—Ab French, head of Roosevelt County's drought committee, had about all the water he could use. A hail and rain storm broke off all his fence-post rain gauges and he had to use buckets to measure the water. He said he'd "swear to between five or six inches of rain, and I think we had more."

MISSING MAGIC

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Amateur Magician Hyman Kroskin's four magic coins disappeared—apparently for keeps this time. Koskin reported someone lifted them from his home along with a diamond pin.

Promotes Last Verse Of National Anthem

BALTIMORE (AP)—Catholic War Veterans, crusading for more recognition of God in American life, are encouraging Marylanders to sing the last stanza of the National Anthem. In that stanza are the words "in God is our trust."

Dan Ogelsand, first vice commander of the CWV Department of Maryland, said specially-cut 45 RPM records of the "Star Spangled Banner" will be distributed to all posts. Some posts plan to present the records, by the Boy's Town Choir, to schools, he said.
